STRIKE SITUATION STILL UNSETTLED

THREE PERISH ON AIRLINER; WRECK FOUND

THAWS BARE BODIES OF 9 LOST FOR 20 MONTHS

(By The Associated Press)

One South American air liner crashed with fatal result Thursday, while the snow-capped Andes yielded the long-hidden wreckage of another and its nine victims.

Three members of the crew of a Pan-American-Grace Airways plane were killed when the ship met disaster on its takeoff at Lima, Peru. Four passengers were injured, including Manuel Trucco, ambassador from Chile to the United States, and his daughter.

Meanwhile, the 20-months old mystery of the disappearance of the airliner "San Jose," on a flight from Santiago, Chile, to Buenos Aires, was cleared away by two mountaineers.

Byrd Ships Return

On muleback, they discovered the wreckage and bodies of the nine victims under snow at the base of Mount Aconcagua, the loftiest in the Americas, towering 23,300 feet.

Search by dozen of planes after the liner's disappearance in 1932 had proven fruitless. It also was a Pan-American-Grace plane. Save for one which was headless, bodies of the victims were in good condition.

In another remote part of the southern hemisphere an air episode ended with happier results.

Two airplanes of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, which had been grounded during flights from the main base at Little America, were returned to the home camp after storms had delayed their rescue several days.

BOUND FOR CHILE

Lima, Peru, March 22 (AP)—The crash of an air liner at its takeoff today resulted in the deaths of three crew members—two Americans and a Briton—and injuries to four persons, including Manuel Trucco, Chilean ambassador to Washington, and his daughter.

The envoy, who was returning to Chile from the United States, following upon the death of his wife March 17 at Santiago, suffered fractures of the hip and pelvis bones, and was most seriously hurt.

The craft was the Pan-American-Grace Airways plane "San Rafael." It was bound for Chile with 12 persons aboard and had climbed about 60 feet when it fell, probably because of motor trouble.

The dead:

Homer V. Farris, pilot, 38, a native of London, Ky.

Lawrence A. Wagner, radio operator, 26, a native of Baltimore.

Frank Large, 24, secretary to Capt. Harold Harris, vice president of the Pan-American-Grace. He was born in Liverpool, Eng., and was the husband of Elena Hott of Santiago, Chile.

Others injured were:

Senorita Grace Trucco, broken shoulder.

Senorita Carmelia Bustamante.

John McGregor, vice president of the Pan-American-Grace Lines, which are a part of Pan-American Airways. Captain Harris and McGregor had visited Lima and were going to Santiago to continue a survey of Pan-American-Grace stations.

The injured were taken to the Delgado hospital where it was said they were doing well.

DOHENY AGAIN

Reviving the Harding administration oil scandals, the U. S. government has filed a $9,282,561 suit against Edward L. Doheny, above, oil magnate, charging fraud in three petroleum leases in California fields. They were obtained by collusion with ex-Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, the suit alleges.

PAYMENT URGED TO DEPOSITORS

Wilson Cabinet Official Blames Government For 1933 Panic

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The government's "absolute control" of bank policies in the last several years was asserted today by A. Mitchell Palmer, former attorney general, to have been the cause of the 1933 banking collapse.

The Wilson cabinet member, who said he was strongly in favor of the McLeod bill authorizing governmental payment to depositors in closed national banks, told the house banking committee the "control" exercised by the government over bank policies placed the responsibility squarely upon it to provide relief.

Palmer proposed that the government buy the remaining assets of closed banks "regardless of value," liquidate them over a long period, but pay the depositors in full at once.

He said if congress in passing the recovery act had appropriated funds to pay depositors instead of for public works "a large part of the road to recovery would be behind us now."

Palmer said if the assets of closed banks are liquidated by the Reconstruction corporation over a long period of time "the government won't take much of a licking."

"Remember," he said, "these assets are down in the valley as far as values now are concerned. But they will come back—they are bound to. And if they don't come back, and the country is going to the devil, then what difference will it make?"

Palmer said the effect of the administration appeal to the people to keep their money remaining on deposit was that "the patriotic got stuck and the smart fellow who wanted to beat the government got his money out before the banks closed."

Moulin Rouge Cafe At Chicago Burns, Damage Is $75,000

Chicago, March 22, (AP)—Seven persons were injured tonight in an explosion in the building occupied by the old Moulin Rouge cafe, adjoining the Embassy hotel.

Two buildings were damaged to the extent of $75,000 and 230 guests were routed from the Embassy hotel, many of them scantily clad.

Firemen said a fire started either from a gas explosion or the explosion of a bomb.

The blast blew out the front of a grocery store in one building and shook the adjoining building housing a liquor store and the Moulin Rouge cafe. Seven persons in the buildings suffered minor injuries.

Visitor Saves Three From Death By Gas

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—The timely arrival of a visitor saved from death here today, a mother and her two children who had been overcome by coal gas.

When Mrs. Julia Cantalini arrived at the Vincent Moscardelli home, 7726 Granger street, she found the door locked, and through a window saw Flora Moscardelli, 11, lying unconscious on the floor. With the help of Frank Morone, Mrs. Cantalini broke into the house and carried out Mrs. Moscardelli, 37, and her youngest daughter, Mary, 4, and Flora. A fire department pulmotor revived all three.

HEAD OF SPY RINGS SOUGHT IN NEW YORK

FOREIGN SCIENTIST BRAINS OF GANG, SAYS PAPER

New York, March 22 (AP)—Mysterious "secret agents" are in New York City, the World-Telegram said today, searching for a foreign scientist, who may be the "brains" of an international espionage ring.

The fugitive, who the paper said is supposed to have left Switzerland a few weeks ago and to have set up headquarters here, is described as head of the espionage system which Robert Switz and his wife, of East Orange, N. J., are charged with aiding in France.

Detectives Assigned

Police Commissioner John F. O'Ryan, the World-Telegram continued, has assigned detectives to aid the French government on a special matter and a French agent is believed to have been in the city since Saturday in connection with the Switz case.

Commissioner O'Ryan could not be reached for comment, and the head of the police department's "under-cover" squad said he knew nothing of such a search. Department of justice officials in the city also refused to comment.

The paper said that although the department of justice denied its agents have been recently checking on reports of suspicious activities at military and naval bases, it was known that two agents from Washington, believed to be working on the Switz case, were in the city recently.

Photographs Taken

Naval intelligence, the paper continued, is currently investigating a recent incident in which a suspicious person took photographs in the vicinity of the navy yard in Brooklyn.

The paper added, however, that insofar as could be learned there is no basis for reports of military and naval espionage directed against the United States in the vicinity of the city.

"Unsettled European conditions," the paper said, "are the basis for what one federal investigator called 'an epidemic' of secret investigations here, following the general lines of the epidemic of Central and South American Junta plots discovered two or three years ago."

The paper pointed out that there is no crime of "spying" in the United States, as such, unless trespassing on government property, larceny or an attempt at provoking international dissension is involved.

WOMAN IS FUGITIVE

Paris, March 22 (AP) The devious trial of an international spy ring led to the United States again today when police began efforts to trace activities of an American woman whose identity they did not establish.

Rhinelander Youth Kills Girl, Suicide

Rhinelander, Wis., March 22, (AP)—Gordon McIntyre, 22, former Eagle River high school athlete, committed suicide today after shooting Miss Odeal Blanguard, 21, stenographer for District Attorney Edmund Draeger of Vilas county.

Miss Blanguard, with a bullet wound in the head, was brought to St. Mary's hospital here and given slight chance to recover.

The shooting occurred on a stairway leading to Draeger's office in Eagle River and was witnessed by the district attorney. It was believed an outgrowth of the young woman's failure to encourage McIntyre's attentions.

School Destroyed At Leland, 80 Safe

Leland, Mich., March 22 (AP)—Eighty pupils were ushered out of the Leland schoolhouse by their four teachers without panic or casualties this morning when the building caught fire. It was destroyed.

The fire was discovered in the boiler room as the children were assembling for their classes. It spread through virtually the entire building within a few minutes after all had reached the outside. The children did not realize their danger until they were safe.

The loss was estimated at $49,000.

BANK CLEARINGS HIGHER

New York, March 22 (AP)—Bank clearings for the country last week totaled $5,156,839,000, an increase of $299,586,000 over the week ended March 14, Dun and Bradstreet reported today.

John Lets Frank Mail Out Lansing License Refunds

Lansing, March 22 (AP) The auditor general and the secretary of state today settled their argument over who should mail refund checks to 250,000 automobile owners who purchased license plates before reduced rates went into effect.

In a letter to Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, addressed "Dear Frank," John K. Stack, Jr., auditor general, said: "It is not going to be the policy of this office to let the public hold the bag. We are making these checks out at the rate of 5,000 a day and will turn them over to you and you can take all the political glory you can get."

The dispute arose when Stack demanded that he be allowed to mail the refund checks. The secretary of state refused to provide the addresses, claiming that under the law he is required to make the refund.

FREEDOM GIVEN TO PHILIPPINES

Independence Becomes Reality in Ten to 12 Years

BY CHARLES P. NUTTER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 22, (AP)—A new plan by which the Philippines would be granted their independence in from ten to twelve years was given final congressional approval today and sent to the White House.

The plan described by Philippine leaders as acceptable to the islands, was similar in many respects to that which the island legislature refused last year to accept.

Senate approval of the measure by a vote of 68 to 8 followed rejection of four amendments designed to grant earlier independence and restrict Philippine entry into the free American market after a few years.

The principal difference between this bill and that which expired January 17 was that the new one provides for abandonment by the United States after independence of her military reservations in the islands.

The United States, however, will retain her naval reservations and fueling stations, pending a conference within two years following independence.

Blinded, Menominee Man Regains Sight

Menominee, March 22 (AP) Joseph Benthouse, 27, who was blinded on March 9 after drinking poisonous liquor, and who it was first feared might be permanently blinded, is recovering his sight. Vision in the right eye already is near normal and the vision in the left eye is reported by Benthouse to be returning steadily.

Mrs. Mary Sobeski, 38, housewife, is held under $500 bond to answer to a charge of giving poisonous liquor to Benthouse in return for a fish net in violation of the Michigan liquor control act.

ASK RFC AID

Lansing, March 22 (AP) A delegation from Iron Mountain headed by George Newton appeared before Governor Comstock today to press for a reconstruction finance corporation loan for a continuance of water power operations at the Oliver mine. The governor told the delegation he had urged the project before the R. F. C. and advised the committee to file a formal application at Washington

ADMIT SPY PLOT

Imprisoned in a Paris jail for several months on espionage charges, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz, young Americans, were reported to have confessed their guilt in an international espionage ring and named their accomplices. The Switzes, natives of East Orange, N. J., and New York, are shown at the Palais de Justice awaiting questioning.

PRIVATE PLANES GET MAIL SOON

Administration May Act Without Waiting For Congress

Washington, March 22 (AP) The possibility arose today that the administration might do something about returning air mail to private planes without waiting for congress to say how this should be accomplished.

President Roosevelt surveyed the entire air mail situation at a conference with officials of the postoffice and commerce departments and Attorney General Cummings.

As he left the White House Cummings told reporters there was a possibility of action by the government before enactment of permanent air mail legislation. He said this was not certain, however.

Hearings have been concluded by senate and house committees on the administration bill outlining a permanent basis for mail flying by private lines. The measure now is up for study by the committees, with a number of changes in prospect.

Another proposal for permanent air mail legislation has been advanced by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), which would authorize the postmaster general to put mail sacks back in private planes under a system similar to the railway mail setup.

AGED WIDOW BURNED

Pontiac, Mich., March 22, (AP) Mrs. Sally Bond, 73-year-old widow, was in a hospital Thursday with burns suffered when fire, which broke out while she slept, razed her home.

EXPLOSION FATAL

Northport, Mich., March 22 (AP) H. Fred Malone, 78, was burned fatally tonight when his kitchen stove exploded in his face as he attempted to light a fire to cook a meal. He died a few minutes later at the home of a neighbor.

Skandia Couple Beaten, Near Death; Man is Held

Marquette, Mich., March 22 (AP)—State police are holding William Mackey, about 45, without charge, pending outcome of an attack on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw, of Skandia, found this afternoon with their skulls crushed. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were in their apartment above their store. Mackey, a brother of Mrs. Shaw, lived in a two room apartment at the rear of the store.

State police believe the attack occurred about 8 o'clock this morning. This noon Mackey went to the home of Miss Alice Krieger, a neighbor, telling her that he feared the Shaws were ill or met with foul play as the doors were locked. Miss Krieger immediately went to the apartment, walked in the unlocked doors and found Shaw in a chair and Mrs. Shaw in bed. A shaker, covered with blood, was found near the stove.

Shaw, in conscious moments, said Mackey had taken money from the cash register in the store, leading police to the theory that the Shaws and Mackey quarreled this morning, and that Mackey then attacked the couple. Shaw is about 70 and his wife 20 years younger. She had not regained consciousness late this afternoon.

Mackey was being detained at the state police barracks here for questioning by the officers and Clarence E. Lott, of Negaunee, Marquette county prosecuting attorney. Late tonight they said they had no information to give out except that "we have not obtained any confession."

They also went to St. Luke's hospital to learn from Shaw, if possible, who had attacked the couple, but would not reveal what they learned. At the hospital it was reported that the Shaws were in "poor condition," but that the condition of Mrs. Shaw was the most

BIG INCREASE IN VETERANS' FUNDS KILLED

HOUSE FEARS VETO, SENDS BILL BACK TO COMPROMISE

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 22 (AP)—In a spirited rally to prevent a certain veto, the house today rejected the higher compensations voted by the senate for veterans and sent the bill in which the dispute is bound back to a committee of senators and representatives to work out a compromise.

The vote of 220 to 174 by the house conferees to insist upon the more moderate veterans compensations and federal pay plan the house had agreed upon.

President May Sign

Indications were the senate would yield to the house, accept its amendments tomorrow and send the bill to the White House where President Roosevelt will decide whether to sign or veto it. Many believed he would sign it.

The senate proposal for veterans would have cost the government an estimated $118,000,000 in restoring allowances that were taken from veterans by the economy act of last session. The house had voted $83,0000,000 for that purpose.

The house also rejected by 228 to 164 the senate proposal to restore to federal workers their full fifteen percent pay cut. This was estimated to cost $190,000,000. Instead, it agreed to give ten percent of the amount back to government employes. Cost estimates for this were put at $126,000,000.

Speaker Surprised

The veterans vote surprised Speaker Rainey and Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, who had told reporters earlier they thought the senate amendments would be adopted.

The tide was turned toward the senate proposals by an avalanche of telegrams from national and late commanders of veterans organizations urging members to accept the lower provisions to avoid a probable veto.

Many of these were read into the record by recipients during the debate.

Representative Browning (D-Tenn.), a leader of the veterans' bloc, told the house that while he had no assurances that the president would sign the bill with the house compromises, the senate proposals would draw a certain veto.

"Something or Nothing"

Explaining the senate amendments contained pensions and benefits for "willful misconduct cases," widows of veterans who had re married since the death of the veterans, and men who entered the service after the world war closed, Browning said "the first consideration is what is best for the veterans in the long run."

"I believe that if you adopt the senate amendments, the president will send a stinging message to congress that will set the veterans cause back by ten years," Browning said. "I'd rather have a part of something instead of all of nothing for the veterans."

Representative Connery (D-Mass.), led the fight for the senate amendments, forcing roll call votes. He appealed to the members to vote their "consciences."

On the veterans amendment, 197 Democrats and 23 Republicans voted to insist upon the house compromise, 88 Democrats, 81 Republicans and five Farmer-Laborites voted to approve the senate amendments.

On the pay cut, 210 Democrats and eighteen Republicans voted for the Vinson compromise; 74 Democrats, 85 Republicans and five Farmer-Laborites voted for the senate proposals.

Amended Petition Attacks Head Tax

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—Clyde V. Fenner, of the Forgotten Man's Club, today filed an amended petition for an injunction restraining the collection of the head tax for the old age pension this year.

Judge Harry B. Keidan of circuit court signed an order to show cause why the injunction should not issue, returnable March 31. The order is directed against the principal executives of the old age pension bureau. A similar petition was filed some time ago by Fenner but was thrown out of court for technical irregularities.

ASK POLICE GUARDS

Detroit, Mich., March 22 (AP)—Officials of the Gordon Baking Co., whose union employes are on strike, have asked the city to supply police guards for company trucks claiming that stench bombs have been hurled at several of them.

AT LABOR HEARING

Company unions in the automobile industry were criticized and defended when the National Labor Board opened its hearings in Washington on the dispute in the Detroit area of the industry. Among spokesmen for employers is W. S. Knudsen, executive vice-president of General Motors, pictured here as he testified.

MORE DISORDER IN TAXI STRIKE

Cabs Wrecked and Drivers Beaten in New York Midtown Area

New York, March 22 (AP)—To the tune of splintering glass and rending steel, approximately 200 striking taxicab drivers rioted on city hall today and then spread through the midtown area wrecking cabs and beating chauffeurs as they went.

In their wake they left a trail of shattered taxis standing in the middle of streets, their doors flopping open crazily and their drivers nursing cuts and bruises.

Police cars and armored motorcycles whined through the streets in their wake but were unable to hobble the yelling, scattering men, who pounced on every cruising cab that failed to elude them.

One group encountered Mayor LaGuardia returning to city hall. His limousine was surrounded. Some strikers booed the mayor, others cheered him.

LaGuardia, energetic, loud spoken, turned down the window and addressed the crowd, urging them to avoid "rough stuff" and to seek conciliation of their differences through responsible leaders.

Most of the boos turned to cheers, and the mayor's chauffeur slipped in the clutch. The light turned to green and the car disappeared down the street with a diminuendo cough.

Comstock Seeks Ruling On Voter Eligibility Laws

Lansing, March 22, (AP)—Governor Comstock today asked the attorney general to decide who will be eligible to vote in case he signs the $30,000,000 public works bonding measure. A popular referendum is required before the bill becomes effective.

Although an amendment was placed in the constitution limiting the franchise on bond issues on public expenditures to taxpayers, no enabling act was adopted by the legislature. No legal definition of those qualified to vote on such issues therefor is available.

The governor believed the right of franchise might extend to those paying personal property taxes as well as to real estate owners. A rigid enforcement of the personal property tax has never been undertaken in Michigan, but the governor thought these on the tax rolls for personal assessments might be able to vote.

STUDY SEWAGE PLAN

Detroit, Mich., March 22 (AP)—Wayne county officials Thursday conferred with Gov. William A. Comstock on a $25,000,000 sewage disposal project which would be financed by PWA funds and would free from pollution the waters separating Michigan and Ontario. The project calls for disposal plants at five points between Port Huron and Gibraltar, Mich.

FARRINGTON DEAD

Madison, Wis., March 22 (AP) Edward H. Farrington, 73, professor of dairy husbandry at the University of Wisconsin for the past 40 years and originator of widely used dairy tests, died today. He was associated for many years in experiment work with the late Stephen M. Babcock, famed inventor of the Babcock milk test.

CAR INDUSTRY AWAITS WORD OF PRESIDENT

BOTH SIDES HEARD IN RAILWAY PAY DISPUTES

President Roosevelt continued efforts last night to avert threatened strikes by conferring with representatives of automobile workers and appealing to Pacific coast longshoremen to postpone action pending further negotiations.

Representatives of automotive workers called on union locals to withhold strike action pending further word from the president. After conferring with Mr. Roosevelt, labor leaders reported substantial progress.

Says Green Shifted

The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, however, claimed President William Green of the American Federation of Labor had shifted his position and now denied that union recognition was the main issue in the controversy.

President Roosevelt's personal appeal postponed a strike of 12,000 longshoremen on the Pacific coast.

It developed compromise plans were also under which Pacific coast strikes of 900 men in the Addressograph-Multigraph Corporation and Sherwin-Williams Paint company plants.

More than 200 striking New York taxicab drivers marched on the city hall and there wrecked and burned scores of cabs and beat drivers in Times Square. Police forces were concentrated there.

Nine strikes were in progress in northern Ohio, a new one being a walkout of 300 workers of the Cleveland Furniture Manufacturing company, asking a wage increase.

Racine Walkout Ends

At Akron the Painters Union called 200 CWA painters from their work.

The strike at the two J. I. Case Company plants at Racine, Wis., was settled tonight and 1,200 employes will return to work tomorrow morning. The strike started more than three weeks ago.

Wages of day laborers will be increased approximately 15 per cent and the minimum for piece workers will be 45 cents an hour compared with 38 cents when the strike began.

The company agreed to recognize the workers' committee as the collective bargaining representative of its employes.

Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, prepared to suggest a settlement of the railroad wage question after hearing both management and labor state their cases.

Police were detailed at 44

FLINT HOPEFUL

Washington, March 23 (Friday) (AP) American Federation of Labor officials early today expressed confidence that strikes threatened for later this morning in Flint, Mich., and other automobile areas would be forestalled as a result of new telegrams of assurance dispatched to the workers.

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

President Roosevelt discussed the automobile strike threat with union leaders.

Joseph B. Eastman, railroad coordinator, tackled the railway wage dispute.

Workers asked recovery administration officials to take the blue eagle from Weirton Steel company plants.

Cooperative milk producers denounced the agriculture administration's new production control plan.

The house rejected high veterans' benefits previously voted by the senate.

House committees approved the Goldsborough bill for a federal monetary authority.

A Mitchell Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson administration, urged that the government pay off depositors of closed banks.

Congressional action was completed on a bill giving the Philippine Islands until October 1 to decide on independence.

Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, reiterated opposition to the revised stock exchange bill.

President Roosevelt surveyed the air mail situation at a conference with officials of three departments.

Secretary Morgenthau said the treasury would like to see a stock exchange law with teeth in it.

INSULL REFUGE SHIP STALLING?

Whereabouts Is Mystery To Port Officials; 2 Days Overdue

Port Said, Egypt, March 23, (Friday) (AP)—The captain of the Greek steamer Attiki arrived at 5 a. m. today (10 p. m. Thursday, E. S. T.) and informed port police he had sighted Samuel Insull's chartered steamer Maiotis yesterday while enroute to Port Said.

BY JOHN LLOYD
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Port Said, Egypt, March 22. (AP)—A belief that the good but grimy ship Maiotis, Samuel Insull's "yacht," is deliberately delaying her arrival here until the vigilance of authorities relaxes was expressed tonight as the fifth day passed without news of the fugitive Insull.

The parade of steamships of various sizes and flags passing through the Suez Canal for the Red Sea disclosed none answering the description of the Greek freighter on which the former Chicago utilities czar left Greece early Sunday.

Her whereabouts remained a complete mystery to port officials here. The Maiotis—it her destination was this gateway—was two days overdue, but a sharp watch for her will continue unless she is located elsewhere, authorities said.

One report which circulated persistently although confirmation was lacking said the Maiotis was cruising off the coast near Damietta, only a few hours' steaming distance from Port Said.

According to this statement Insull was waiting for the arrival of one of his Greek lawyers at Port Said aboard a plane from Athens so that he would have legal counsel ready in case complications should arise upon entering this port.

A renewed air of expectancy arose because of the report.

It was also said that an Insull agent passed through here a month go enroute to Abyssinia to try to arrange for a sanctuary there if such a course became necessary.

Port officials declared, meanwhile, that Insull might be holding back his chartered haven until time wears off the keenness of the vigilance in the hope that his passage through the canal might be expedited.

At any rate, the possibility that the Maiotis might come this way was considered by authorities to be as good a bet as any and will not be discarded, they asserted, until the enigma of the Maiotis is cleared up.

There was a flurry of excitement this morning when a steamer of the same size as the Maiotis was seen on the horizon at the point where Insull's ship is expected to heave into sight.

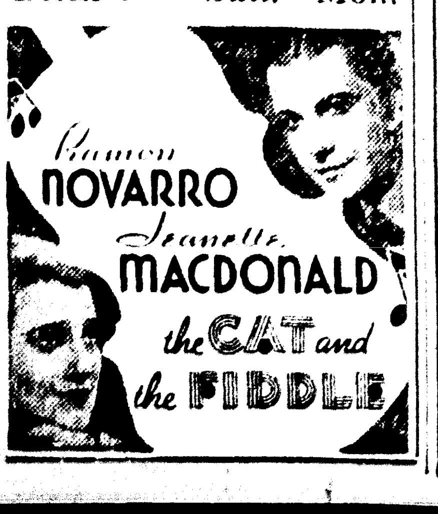

For a time watchers at a battery of telescopes thought she was the vessel they sought, but she proved to be the Greek freighter Avisonia.

Detroit Bankruptcy Order Is Appealed

Cincinnati, O., March 22. (AP)—An appeal from a lower court order denying an application for dismissal of bankruptcy proceedings against the Detroit Bankers Co. was on file today in the U. S. circuit court of appeals. The appeal was taken by Walter W. Austin, Detroit, a stockholder in the holding company.

The bankruptcy proceedings were instituted by [illegible] Thomas, receiver for the First National Bank-Detroit last July. He represented [illegible] a creditor of the holding company in his capacity as receiver for the bank, citing notes given the bank for $[illegible]. Austin contends that the holding company had been dissolved by an order of a state court more than a month prior to the filing of the bankruptcy proceeding.

IONIA MURDER CASE MYSTERY

Crippled Neighbor, 41, Quizzed in Death of Myron Way, 73

Ionia, Mich., March 22 (AP)—The law tonight turned to a neighboring farmer in its effort to solve the early morning murder of Myron Way, 73, at his farm home near Portland.

Clarence Higgins, 41, a crippled farmer living half a mile north of the Way home, was in the Ionia county jail where county officers and state police questioned him about the murder. Although ballistics tests led state police and county officers to question him closely, Higgins steadfastly denied any knowledge of the crime.

Way was killed at 2 o'clock this morning by a person who poked a shotgun through the glass of a bedroom window at his home. His wife, Eva, 65, was slightly wounded in the left leg by a second shot fired by the assailant.

Leroy Smith, ballistics expert for the Michigan state police, said this afternoon that shotgun shell paper left in Higgins' gun belonged to a discharged shell found near the bedroom window at the Way home. He said that Higgins' gun had been fired "within the last few days." A letter from a relative found in the Way home was also scanned by officers. It warned that "if you see Higgins coming you better not be at home."

Mrs. Way told officers she was awakened by the sound of breaking glass at the window followed immediately by the roar of a gun. Her husband was hit in the back and died instantly. The second shot raked across the bed and struck her in the left leg, she said.

The woman told officers she saw the assailant run from the house but she could give no description of him. Fearful that he might attempt to enter the home, Mrs. Way waited almost an hour before appealing to Lawrence Bower, a neighbor, for aid.

Officers could determine no motive for the murder. They questioned several farmers together with Mrs. Way and Glenn [illegible] of Portland, her son by a first marriage.

Way lived here for many years. He once passed the state examination but refrained from the practice of the law. He and Mrs. Way were married about 25 years ago. Each had been married before.

[illegible] airmail for 1931 was more than 9,000,000 pounds, but in 1932 it dropped to less than 7,000,000 pounds and continued at this low level through 1933.

About 500 planes are used by the airway systems of the United States.

NAVY BUILDING BILL APPROVED

Huge Program Depends on Appropriation of Budget Bureau

Washington, March 22. (AP)—President Roosevelt's signature was all that was needed tonight to embark the United States on the initial stages of a huge building program to lift the navy to treaty strength.

Congressional action on the Vinson-Trammell bill authorizing construction of approximately 100 new destroyers and submarines, an aircraft carrier and more than 1,000 airplanes was completed when the senate approved the conference report a few hours after the house had done so.

"Little navy" senators made a final gesture of protest—claiming it was the start of a "mad naval race" and another big opportunity for profit-making "racketeers"—but the legislation was approved without a roll call and made ready for transmission to the White House.

President Roosevelt is ready to approve the bill, but the extent to which funds will be made available in the seven years the program is expected to cover will depend on the generosity of the budget bureau.

There has been no definite assurance from that quarter that all the money needed—the estimates range from $500,000,000 to $750,000,000—will be forthcoming for insertion in the annual naval appropriations bills.

HEAD OF SPY RINGS SOUGHT IN NEW YORK

all, and told investigating Magistrate Andre Benon they had not decided whether she would be sought for questioning in connection with what they called a traffic in American, British and French secrets.

A belief that she had been implicated by two young Americans held with fourteen others in connection with the espionage syndicate was neither confirmed nor denied in police circles.

The American couple, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Switz of New Jersey and New York, were said by authorities to have made a full confession "of the part they played" in the spy ring.

Judge Benon indicated the belief today that Switz' interest in Communism was responsible for his "getting involved in the spy gang."

The magistrate quoted the Americans as saying what he was doing was for "the welfare of humanity."

Meanwhile, the search for further evidence to supplement a mass of documents seized in two major raids last December and this week continued, and police found "a spies' nest" with secret panels, false furniture drawers, and closets with fake bottoms in the apartment of Mme. Baila Englart, a fugitive Bessarabian woman.

She is sought in connection with the developing and printing of secret code films which Switz confessed mailing to Switzerland for an acquaintance.

The woman apparently fled as police were about to arrest her. Police found all hiding places in the apartment empty.

Michigan Youths Naval Appointees

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The names of seven Michigan young men were sent to Secretary Swanson of the navy department today by Representative Musselwhite, (D-Mich.), as nominees from the Ninth Michigan district for entrance to the United States Military Academy.

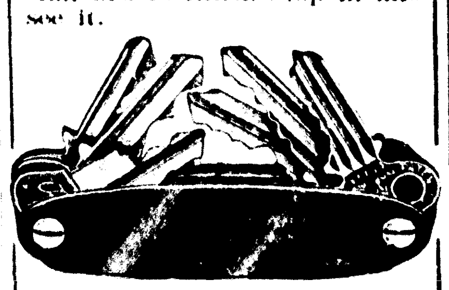

The men were instructed to report for examination on April 18.

Three of them, H. Murray Campbell of Manistee, Robert Nicol, Honor, and Richard Wysong, Traverse City, will take the examination as first, second and third alternates respectively to Baxter H. Webb of Muskegon whom Musselwhite designated earlier in the year but who did not take the February examination. The original three alternates to Webb who took the February examination failed.

On the second appointment to fill a vacancy which will be caused by a graduation in June, Henry Caltyon Thompson, of Muskegon was named principal. Alternates to Thompson are first, John Clifton, Manistee; second, Oliver B. Taylor, Omena, and third, Norman Edward Hockstead, Traverse City.

CAR INDUSTRY AWAITS WORD OF PRESIDENT

Philadelphia knitting mills as 1,000 to 2,000 workers were withdrawn on strike.

The threatened Delaware and Hudson railroad strike was averted by acceptance of terms drafted by President Roosevelt's mediation board.

A Frehold, N. J., rug mill was virtually shut down by a walkout of 1,000 man, after notification of an 8 per cent wage cut.

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—In the midst of the heaviest month's production program in three years, Michigan's automotive plants continued in high speed operation today while the industry's executives and workers anxiously awaited the outcome of efforts by President Roosevelt to avert a threatened strike that, directly or indirectly, would affect upward of 300,000 workers.

Estimates by union leaders today placed the number of unionized workers in nearly a score of plants that would be directly involved, at more than 50,000. The largest were the Buick and Chevrolet plants, General Motors units at Flint, and the Hudson Motor Car Co. plant in Detroit. The two Flint plants have, the union leaders said, more than 10,000 union workwers each, while the membership in the Hudson plant in Detroit is claimed to aggregate 8,000 out of a total employment roster of 13,000.

Big Output Needed

While the outcome of President Roosevelt's mediation efforts was being awaited, settlement of differences at the Motor Products Corporation plant here was announced and preliminary arrangements were made for conferences before the regional labor board on the difficulty that caused more than 800 employes to walk out of the Bower Roller Bearing Co. plant on Tuesday. Meanwhile the strike in the roller bearing plant continues.

The strike clouds gathered just as automobile assembly lines had begun to bite into the heaviest accumulation of unfilled orders since 1931. Production equipment was geared for an output this month of close to 350,000 units, and authoritative sources were predicting an aggregate of approximately 2,000,000 units delivered during the first six months of the year.

May Quit Monday

Union representatives here were without definite advice as to just when a suspension of work would take place should the negotiations at the White House fail. It was pointed out in some quarters that William Collins, chief organizer for the American Federation of Labor in the automotive industry, now in Washington for the conferences between President Roosevelt and the labor union representatives, could not return to Detroit before Saturday.

This was pointed to in support of a conjecture that a strike if one occurs might not be called until Monday. Originally it had been scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. yesterday, but was deferred at the personal request of the president.

What preparations were being made by the motorcar manufacturers and local authorities for meeting a strike in the event efforts to compose the differences failed were being closely guarded. Leaders were quoted as saying complaints had been received that automobile companies were "hiring men by the thousands," and placing them "on call," company officials declined to discuss these assertions.

WAGES RAISED

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—Notices which are being posted in all General Motors automotive plants contain the announcement that the company is putting into effect the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce recommendation for a reduction in working hours to 36 a week, with a commensurate increase in wages.

At the General Motors offices here this afternoon, it was said that no further statement on the matter would be made. The notices contain a quotation from a recent statement in Washington by William S. Knudsen, executive vice president, that the wage and hour recommendation has been accepted.

There are about forty General Motors automotive plants, scattered all over the country.

EXPERTS SENT TO PENINSULA

Best Medical Assistance Promised Crippled Children

Lansing, March 22 (AP)—Manfred K. Toeppen, former $100 a day expert engineer, employed by the state in the Michigan Bell Telephone case, today was employed by the Michigan public utilities commission at $6,000 a year. His title will be "consulting engineer." He will devote most of his time to the pending telephone rate case.

The employment of Toeppen was part of a reorganization program approved by the newly formed commission, of which James B. Balch, Democrat, is chairman. The commission dismissed 24 inspectors, whose pay averaged $1600 a year and whose expenses averaged $1200 a year. This cut the staff of inspectors from 57 to 33. It was announced further reductions will be made to cut the number to 25. Three clerks also were dismissed, and one was hired to replace them. According to the commission announcement the bus and truck division of the commission, to which the inspectors were attached, was operating at the rate of $49,000 a year ago but was stepped up to a $130,000 rate shortly before three members of the commission were removed and Balch was made chairman. The cuts reduce it to about a $70,000 annual rate.

STACK CARRIES FIGHT TO COURT

Auditor General Insists In Looking Into Liquor Books

Lansing, March 22 (AP)—Auditor General John K. Stack, Jr., today carried his fight against the state liquor control commission to the supreme court amid a backfire of charges from Frank A. Picard, chairman of the commission.

The auditor general filed a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Picard to submit an audit of the commission's books. Picard retaliated with the charge that Stack sought to embarrass Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican member of the commission. The supreme court will decide April 3 whether to grant Stack's petition.

In his petition Stack contended the liquor control act entitles his office to a complete accounting of all state funds. Picard recently submitted a report with the state treasurer detailing profits from liquor stores and other information. Stack said the report was inadequate.

Picard said he will file an answer with the court contending he never refused Stack the right for an audit. He charged that the auditor general in a recent conversation "admitted that he didn't care for an audit of the commission and I refuse to take part in would be a good blast against Fitzgerald." Picard, a Democrat, praised Fitzgerald's service on the liquor commission and said he would take no part in an attempt to embarrass him.

"Fitzgerald as a Republican could have caused a lot of trouble on the commission by playing politics but he didn't," Picard said. "I have a lot of admiration for the manner in which he has conducted himself on the commission and I rfeuse to take part in any action to embarrass him."

Picard also contended Stack's petition had a number of errors in it including a misspelling of his name.

"The petition is against Mr. Pleeard, a balloon expert, and not me," he said.

JESUIT RETREAT BURNED

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed Manresa retreat for laymen maintained by the Jesuit Order, in Birmingham, this afternoon, causing a loss estimated at $40,000. Firemen fought the blaze for three hours. It originated in the attic.

Expert Engineer Gets $6,000 Job With Commission

Marquette, Mich., March 22. (AP)—As part of a plan to furnish the best possible medical assistance to crippled children in the upper peninsula, two experts have arrived in Marquette to take up their duties. They are Dr. Eugene R. Elzinga, orthopedic surgeon, who will make his headquarters at the Northern Michigan Children's Clinic, and Miss Florence Durkin, physiotherapist, attached to the staff of St. Luke's hospital.

Dr. Elzinga was appointed as orthopoedic surgeon for the upper peninsula by the crippled children's commission of the state with the approval of the Michigan Orthopedic society, of which he is a member, and the state medical society.

Miss Alma Howell, field nurse for the Michigan crippled children's commission in the northern peninsula, who was instrumental in bringing an orthopedic surgeon here, said today that it is hoped to take care of all cases at Marquette instead of sending them to Grand Rapids, Detroit and Ann Arbor, as in the past. She said there are 1,000 cases of crippled children in the U. P., of which 600 are now under treatment.

Dr. Elzinga is a native of Grand Rapids. He was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1922 and spent two years in the University hospital, later entering private practice in Flint. He was connected with the Shriners' hospital for crippled children in St. Louis for two years, returning to Flint in 1932.

STRAITS RRIDGE AID IS SOUGHT

Michigan Men Attend Conferences In Washington

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Federal aid to build a bridge over the Straits of Mackinac was sought today by three Michigan men in a conference with public works administration officials.

State Representative Edward H. Fenlon of St. Ignace; Charles E. Fowler, engineer who has been at work on preliminary plans making soundings and surveys, and Eugene Mertaugh of Hessel, conferred first with Representative Brown, (D-Mich.), in whose district the bridge would be located.

The Michigan legislature recently passed a bill authorizing the structure, and created a building commission. The plan is to build a series of bridges and causeways from Cheboygan to St. Ignace by way of Bois Blanc, Round, and Mackinac Islands, financing it with revenue bonds.

The plan to connect the lower and upper peninsulas in Michigan has long been discussed. Ferries are now used to cross the passage.

The cost has been variously estimated at from $22,000,000 to $40,000,000 but the present estimate is approximately $30,000,000.

The delegation expects to spend some time here before preparing a report to Governor Comstock.

The attitude of Secretary Ickes towards the $85,000,000 Detroit subway project, and the Detroit housing project has given considerable hope to advocates of the straits bridge. Ickes has indicated definitely he does not favor approval at this time of either of the projects in the metropolitan city, and the state representatives here expressed the opinion Michigan has not received its share of public works allotments.

Another bridge project—that over the St. Clair river between Port Huron and Sarnia, Canada—also is pending before the public works board. The estimate for this structure is $3,500,000.

POISON DEATH HINTED

Detroit, Mich., March 22. (AP)—A whispered sentence from her death bed that "I think I'm being poisoned" caused an investigation to be started Thursday into the death of Mrs. Amanda Austin, 60. Her vital organs will be examined by the county chemist. Neighbors who reported to police that Mrs. Austin suspected she was being poisoned said the woman recently had broken off an affair between her daughter and a man sought for questioning.

Doings In New York

BY PAUL HARRISON

New York — "Red Emma" Goldman, who shelved her militant anarchism to the extent of saying a good word for President Roosevelt and living in nonproletarian style at the Astor after she was admitted to this country, is being welcomed wherever she goes by scores of people who "knew her when." Out of the friendly reminiscences at a dinner the other evening came some anecdotes concerning an Emma Goldman whom Redshy America never knew . . . One woman told of the time she went to visit the anarchist, who had been ill for several days, but now was convalescent. Found her still abed and inquired anxiously if there's been a relapse. Miss Goldman said no, she felt fairly well but wasn't able to be up and around yet because she didn't have any clothes. Seems that during her illness she had given away every stitch of her wardrobe to unfortunate friends who had come to see her.

Another friend once called on Miss Goldman and found her weeping bitterly. All her militance and courage and habitually cold defiance seemed to be dissolved in some deep personal sorrow. The friend made sympathetic inquiry. "I guess anybody'd cry," sobbed the woman whose name in those days was supposed to be synonymous with blood and violence. "Do you realize that at this very minute four anarchists are being murdered in Japan?" . . . One other slant on the real Emma Goldman: Her close friends agree that if she hadn't made headlines with her inflammatory political activities she would have become famous anyway with her coffee and cooking.

JUST DREW THEIR BREATHS

Eight of the most famous caricaturists in New York attended a luncheon at the Waldorf recently, and it was a pretty peculiar party. Two other caricaturists sent regrets. One was Will Cotton, who draws men with big red noses; he said he had a bad cold and such a red nose that he didn't like to appear in public. The other was Abe Birnbaum, who refused to attend because he was in sympathy with the hotel's striking waiters.

Al Hirshfeld showed up, but wouldn't drink the wine because it came from Germany. Gard, who was supposed to caricature some of the other caricaturists, forgot his drawing materials. Alajalov wouldn't pose, wouldn't make a speech, wouldn't even eat; just sat there. Irving Hoffman and Massagner both declined the honor of caricaturing their fellow artists, and tried to pass the job on to Xavier Cugat. He, in turn, said he had another date and would have to go. Al Frueh was called on for a speech on the art of caricature. He talked for half an hour on the advantages of living in Connecticut and the culture of various kinds of nut trees.

BUSINESS OFF STAGE

A couple of young actors, William Ober and Wendell Whitten, went dashing into the station at Syracuse the other night to catch a train for New York, and were collared by several policemen. The pair had been playing in a presentation of "Rip Van Winkle," and had no idea, of course, that two other young men had staged a bank robbery in Rochester. Authorities in the latter city had tipped off Syracuse police to be on the lookout, and they were . . . Suspicion was aroused by the great haste of Messrs. Ober and Whitten, and the arresting cops were jubilant when they opened the actors' luggage and found several wigs and sets of false whiskers. Things were set right, finally, when the searchers got down to the Rip Van Winkle costumes.

AWAIT BANK OPENING

Iron River—Encouraging news relative to the new Iron River National bank was received late yesterday afternoon when Congressman W. Frank James inquired of Henry J. Veeser, conservator and cashier-de-signate, whether next Saturday or Monday would be convenient for the opening.

Death Calls Aged Perkins Resident Following Illness

Perkins, Mich. (Special)—Hector Picher, 70, passed away at the family home here at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Death was due to the complications attendant upon his advanced age. He had been ill for the past four and one-half months.

Mr. Picher was born March 8, 1864, at Saint Colestien, Ontario, and came to the United States when he was 14 years of age. Until 14 years ago he had made his home in Marquette where he was employed as a passenger brakeman on the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railroad for 28 years, retiring four years ago because of ill health.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church in Perkins. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery, Perkins.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Maurice Forsberg of Perkins; one sister, Mrs. Carl LaVigne of Negaunee, and six grandchildren.

Coast Guard Boat Goes To Marquette

Marquette, Mich., March 22 (AP)—The Nansemond, 100-foot coast guard patrol boat, will be transferred from the southern Atlantic run fleet to Lake Superior, basing in Marquette, it was announced today by S. B. Johnson, of Green Bay, Dis., commandant of the eleventh coast guard district.

The Nansemond is Diesel-powered, and carries a crew of twenty men and three warrant officers. It will be used in rescue work between Keweenaw Bay and Whitefish Point. At present the boat is at Fernandina, Fla. After navigation opens on the Great Lakes it will be taken up the Atlantic coast to New York and thence to its new station.

The order transferring the Nansemond to Marquette ordered the Dallas, another 100-footer, to Sault Ste. Marie; the Rush, 125 feet, to Chicago; the Wolcott, 100 feet, to Milwaukee, and the Perry, 100 feet, to Green Bay.

It is precisely this habit of allowing the so-called practical man to guide public policy that has brought more countries than one into their present troubles.

MEDICAL ADVICE

If you want to

. . . relieve constipation gently and safely
. . . take the exact dose suited to your need
. . . avoid danger of bowel strain
—use a liquid laxative

Can constipation be safely relieved? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" declare thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not apt to cure your constipation with salts, pills and tablets, or any habit-forming cathartic. But you can safely relieve this condition just by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

Why Hospitals use a liquid laxative

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit your individual need. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will it irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement, with no discomfort at the time, or afterward.

The unwise use of strong cathartics may often do more harm than good.

In buying any laxative, read the label. If it contains a doubtful drug, don't take it. If you don't know what is in it, don't chance it. The contents of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is stated plainly on the label; fresh herbs, pure pepsin, active senna.

Its very taste tells you Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. Drug stores have it, ready for use, in big bottles.

THE TEST:

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels," but strong cathartics!

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the highest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used.

CHANGES TACTICS

GOV. COMSTOCK has evidently determined to decisively change his tactics on the legislature's determination that no bonds for public works, or any other purpose, shall be authorized without a vote of the people. Following the first special session of the legislature, when a referendum clause was insisted upon in the proposed bonding program, the governor issued a tirade of abuse against both Democrats and Republicans who opposed his will. After suffering his second defeat at the hands of the legislature, the governor is pursuing a more amicable course, by proceeding leisurely with plans to submit the questions to the tax payers of Michigan at a special election, probably about May 1.

The state is to be flooded with oratory previous to the date of the special election, with the governor personally heading a committee to urge upon the people the endorsement of the $36,000,000 bonding program.

If the tactics of the orators sent to this section of the state in behalf of the bond issues are not decidedly dissimilar to those employed by another group of invaders, who came here a few weeks ago in an endeavor to force legislators to vote for the bonding program without a referendum, they might just as well stay at home.

A HARD "SPOT"

ALREADY faced with serious threats of strikes in the automotive and railroad industries, President Roosevelt found his troubles augmented on Wednesday when senate conferees on veterans' benefits and federal pay increases, threw back into the laps of a near hostile house, the senate's demand for veterans and federal pay increases far in excess of the president's budget. Only by a single vote and after terrific administration pressure was this measure sent to conference a few days ago, carrying appropriations more in line with the president's program. On Wednesday senate conferees refused to reduce their demands and the bill thus goes back to a potentially dangerous house, because all of the members of that body must face election this fall and the wishes, particularly, of veterans in their constituencies represent a force that will have to be reckoned with.

The senate's [illegible] on the matter and the [illegible] [illegible] in the house, are of course [illegible] by the claim that [illegible] can find funds for practically every [illegible] [illegible] it can also find funds [illegible] reward veterans and [illegible]

The letter was [illegible] signature "One [illegible] honest government, a member of the House of Representatives."

Instantly a storm broke loose. The legislators stood up on their hind legs, tore their hair, drew their claymores and [illegible] the tocsin.

Were they hunting for their dishonored colleagues that they might expel them? Not at all. They were hunting the man who had made the accusation so that they might have his scalp.

They haled before the legislative bar the Louisville editor, Armentrout, and demanded that he gave them the name of the letter writer. Armentrout invited them to go and climb a tree. They had him jailed, and he got out on a writ of habeas corpus.

They fined him $25; he refused to pay, and suggested that they sue him and see how far they would get. They asked President Roosevelt to fire the editor's boss, who is ambassador to the court of St. James.

Suppose, now, that the editor had given them the name of this letter writer. What would have happened? Something like this, probably.

The letter writer would have been called in and questioned: "Did you ever, with your own eyes, see a legislator accept a bribe? Did you ever yourself give money to a legislator? Have you affidavits, documents, sworn witnesses to prove your charges?"

And when he admitted that he had none of these things, they would have called attention to their innocence and denounced him as a rumor-monger and a nit-wit.

One would think that a legislative body accused of corruption would hasten to demonstrate its innocence. One would think it, that is, if one didn't know American legislators. Their instant reaction to such a charge is to have at their accuser and detach his scalp.

They never seem to realize that a legislative body which is always, unmistakably, working honestly and intelligently for the public interest is never in any danger of being besmirched by irresponsible mud-slingers.

THE BRAIN'S EXTREMES

IT IS very seldom, thank heaven, that there is anything in the newspapers quite as horrible as the story of the Akron business man who threw his baby son into the furnace "because the Lord told me to."

One hardly needs to await the report of the psychiatrists to know that the man was deranged. He just had come home from a hospital, after being hurt in an auto accident, he had been "talking strangely"; a friend had asked the man's wife to hide his gun, if he had one, fearing that he might do something desperate.

But no one foresaw, or could have foreseen, the frightful thing that he actually did do.

The Romantic Runaway

CHAPTER XIX

Sir Aubrey's agent discovered the name of the ship's doctor on the boat on which Mary Marriage gave birth to her son. The doctor was now on a ship sailing from Philadelphia for Naples and Genoa and the ship happened, at the time, to be lying in the Delaware. Therefore Sir Aubrey and Billings, his agent, journeyed to Philadelphia and to the docks where, after considerable waiting, they met the doctor.

He remembered perfectly, he said, with a wide wave of hands and a lift of the shoulders. The girl had been fearfully ill. He had done his best, and God was witness of this, but—

"Girl or boy?" Sir Aubrey put in.

"A boy. A fine boy."

Sir Aubrey drew a deep breath. For a second his cheeks had whitened, then they became more florid than usual.

The ship's doctor reminisced vaguely. The baby had been adopted by two Cuban or South American girls. He did not remember their names. The captain might, because he had taken the responsibility in letting them take the baby without any legal interference. The captain had been troubled by this responsibility, he thought. No, the doctor could not remember anything more about the young ladies who had adopted the baby, except that they had much money and they had traveled with an aunt, or cousin.

Billings wrote down the name of the ship's captain. The doctor did not know where the captain was now. "Perhaps with God," he suggested cheerfully.

Alarm flashed in Sir Aubrey's eyes. "We will hope for the best," said Billings heavily.

Pablito woke next morning to find sunlight on the highly polished tile floor of his room and a languid, caressing warmth in the air. For a moment he studied the tinted plaster walls. Then he remembered where he was and that he did not know where Noyes was.

"I've got to find him!" Pablito thought. Noyes was sure to need him and the thought of Noyes' misery eclipsed his own.

Already the narrow streets were teeming with the excitement of a holiday. Shrill sounds crept up into Pablito's room, matching the shrill colors which somehow never seem inharmonious in Cuba.

Beau, in the next room, stretched and yawned. He liked this place and he and Lottie should be able to do a nice lot of "cleaning up," he thought. A holiday crowd was always easy to "pick." Beau was quite sure that he was going to enjoy himself.

He lay thinking of this and of how satisfactorily events were working out. The night before Lottie had come to his room, closed the door behind her and demanded, "Whatcha plannin' to do with him, Beau? Come clean. If you do him dirty, I warn you I'll fix you! Understand?" Her eyes were threateningly and broodingly fixed on him, her jaw set.

He had answered evasively but with some measure of truth. He knew Pablito's value and intended to make use of it. Pablito had an honest look that should help in disposing of stolen goods without arousing suspicion. Beau felt that he had a firm hold on Pablito. He had seen him "knock off" the man who had beaten the child.

"I ain't goin' to do him dirty," Beau assured Lottie. "I kinda like him," he added sheepishly.

He really did like Pablito. He liked him so much that he wished he had not had to use Pablito's knife to kill Jeffries. "But anybody woulda done it," he told himself over and over in self-defense.

Beau heard a noise in the next room and slid from his bed to open the door between the rooms. Pablito, having bathed, was getting into his amazing blue suit.

"Morning," he said shortly.

"Lo, Kid," Beau answered and, lounging against the door, added, "We're goin' to the carnival. I heard las' night where I can rent suits and I'm goin' around to get 'em after breakfast. We'll have the chow sent up here. Better not make too many public appearances till I know how things are, see?"

"Yes—"

"Whatja want for breakfast?"

"Coffee."

"Is that all?"

"Yes."

"I'm goin' to look out for you, kid. Honest to God, you can trust your ol' friend, Beau."

"Can I?"

"Say!" The other stood erect. "Listen, I done in more'n one man for givin' me a slur like that!"

Pablito went on tying his tie and Beau's anger cooled quickly. He realized that fighting among themselves would be disastrous.

"I won't say no more about that now," he confided, agrievedly, "but some day you'll be sorry for those words. Honest to God you will."

Pablito made no answer.

A few moments later Lottie tried to open Beau's door, found it locked and banged on it angrily.

"Ain't you delicate?" she inquired scathingly as Beau admitted her. Then, her voice changing to a tone of hushed anxiety, she said, "Is he up?"

"Kinda go for him, don't you, Angel Eyes?" Beau asked, his hard face softening in a grin.

"Go for him?" she echoed, smiling uncertainly. Then she added honestly, "You big boob, I'm in love with him!"

Beau laughed. Lottie said slowly, almost sadly, "It's God's truth. That boy's the first decent guy I ever met."

To which Beau replied with his customary, harmlessly belligerent, "Oh, is that so?"

Beau liked the situation. If the kid would only fall for Lottie there would be peace in the camp. Meantime Beau would have to do considerable hinting to Pablito of his danger and thus keep him aware of the fact that he must dance to any tune Beau cared to play. Pablito would be "a good guy," Beau thought, if he were "handled right." He had courage. A youth with less courage would have been knuckling under to Beau, placating him and all too eager to hear his assurance of protection.

The three assembled in Pablito's room to eat breakfast from a table set before an open window. The high, lilting half-sung cries of the venders of serpentine streamers and confetti rose to them, mixed with the grind of motor brakes and shrill, excited voices.

After he had gulped down a substantial breakfast Beau picked up the newspaper he had ordered the waiter to bring. Having glanced casually at the headlines, he turned a quick, sly look at Pablito.

It had been dumb, Beau realized, to leave the newspaper around before he had looked at it, but the kid had been even dumber. Beau folded the sheets with the first page inside, lit a cigaret, and then—humming—made his way to his own room.

"Pretty nice," he muttered when he was alone there, reading of the escape of Pablito Smith, wanted for the murder of Theodore Jeffries and for the theft of the famous Jeffries' pearls.

Beau had hoped the newspaper report would read like this, but of course he hadn't been sure. The boat in which Smith had es-

THE WORLD OWES NO MAN

The world owes no man anything
To whom the world is not in debt.
When he had plenty, did he bring
The poor a little, or forget?
But if he did the poor recall,
Another's hurt his heart could touch
For what he gave, however small,
If all he could, the world owes much.

The world owes no man anything,
A world to whom he did not lend,
Who waited till he felt life's sting
Ere he began to talk of friend.
Who asks for kindness must be kind.
And kind before he feels the need;
But if his heart was so inclined
To help, the debt is great indeed.

The world owes no man anything,
A world that was not better made
By his example, laboring
Untiringly and unafraid.
But if he did so serve the earth,
The good defend, and sin defeat,
Yes, lived a life of honest worth,
That is a debt the world must meet.

According to the vote taken at the closing session of the Upper Peninsula Boys Conference here yesterday, Calumet will entertain the conference next year. The vote was as follows: Calumet 124; Marquette 96; Menominee 72 and the Soo 66.

County and city police officers joined with railroad detectives yesterday in making an intensive search for some clue that will lead to the arrest of the bold highway man who has now on two occasions robbed the North Escanaba station of the Soo Line. William Stevenson, chief Soo Line detective, arrived at the robbed station on the west bound passenger train, less than a half hour after the latest robbery had been perpetrated, but like local officers was entirely frustrated in his effort to establish the identity of the robber.

HEAVY TOURIST TRAFFIC SEEN

Many Vacationists Are Expected to Come to Escanaba

Indications are that Escanaba and the rest of the upper peninsula will enjoy a highly satisfactory volume of tourist business this coming season, Secretary H. P. Lindsay of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday as plans were commenced for the annual tourist publicity campaign.

Escanaba will be featured this year as the "gateway to the Hiawatha national forest" to tie in with the extensive advertising program that is to be launched by the U. S. forest service, Mr. Lindsay said. Other new methods of tourist advertising will be attempted, including the use of direct mail to a list of college and high school faculty members in the middle west.

Suggestions are also being made by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce for revamping the Escanaba section of the "Green Book," circulated by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

It is expected that this northwoods section will profit from the advertising to it by the Michigan exhibit at A Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago last year. The nation-wide publicity that will be tied up with the tercentennary celebration of Jean Nicolet, French explorer, on Mackinac Island and other communities in the upper peninsula is counted upon to draw tourists here. The Upper Peninsula State Fair and a series of conventions also will prove of much benefit to this community.

ISABELLA NEWS

The Basket Social given jointly by the Ladies' Aid and Young Peoples' Society Saturday night was a great success despite the fact that it had been snowing and blowing all day. A substantial sum was added to the funds of the Congregational church.

Mrs. Walter Butler motored to Menominee Friday and brought back her aunt, Mrs. Wester, from the St. John hospital. The operation which she recently had on her eyes has proved a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Butler, who have been spending several weeks in Pasadena, Calif., returned to their home Tuesday. While driving home through Rockford, Ill., they were struck by a Chrysler car, driven by a woman who failed to notice the red light. Mr. Butler had three broken ribs, Mrs. Butler was badly bruised and both were suffering from shock. This accident was especially unfortunate for the latter, who has not been feeling well for some time.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1981 C. M. Co.

Dog Trails Wolves, Now Carries Scars

"Micky," small dog belonging to Dan Shepherd, 67 year old caretaker of the Whorl Club north of Newberry, was attacked by four wolves and is still bearing the scars of the battle. Word of the incident comes in from the club which is about 20 miles from Newberry, through Dova Berry who made a snowshoe trip to see how Mr. Shepherd was faring. According to Shepherd's story, he had taken his dog and was making a trip to Whorl lake about a month ago. He came upon tracks of four wolves. Micky at once left him and started to trail the wolves. Soon Shepherd heard his friend calling and knew he was in trouble. He shot his gun into the air and then started running along the wolf trail. He found where the encounter had taken place and where Micky had left his bloody trail towards home. When he arrived back at the club the dog was sitting on the door step, blood running from many wounds. Two ribs were also broken. Careful nursing has restored the animal to health but he is still badly scarred.

Cabin Buried

Mr. Shepherd wants his friends to know that he is alright and happy. He has not been out of the place for a month and his house, a large, two-story log house, is buried in the snow. Mr. Berry reported that he walked on his snowshoes right over the roof. Shepherd came up from Lake Odessa last fall to take charge of the club. He is an experienced woodsman and likes nothing better than the life he is now living. But he does not like wolves, and Micky does not either. Wardens and others report the animals have not increased nor decreased in numbers during the past two or three years, but there are still far too many.

SPRING FESTIVAL

"In Woodland" has been selected as the musical number to be used for the spring festival given annually by the children of the local schools under the training and supervision of Arthur A. Neu. The number is of unusual quality, being written by Richard Kountz. It consists of six numbers especially written for children's voices. Grades four to eight, inclusive, take part and the school orchestra supplies the accompaniment. The orchestration is one which suggests the movement and sound of the forest, with wind, trees and water beautifully indicated. There will be a chorus of 400 voices.

NEWBERRY LOCALS

Members of the Germfask CCC camp will have a dinner and attend the State theatre on March 28. The local Business and Professional Woman's club will prepare and serve the dinner. Six of the boys are leaving for their homes and the officers of the camp wanted a celebration before they left.

A. A. Neu and Reino Ahlman will attend the convention of music supervisors to be held in Chicago during the week of March 8 to 12 in the Stevens hotel. R. O. Barkley, supervisor of the Sault schools, will also attend, the three driving down together.

Thursday, the second day of spring, celebrated by presenting the community with a 20 below zero temperature.

Michigan Ranks Highest in Fires, But Damage Less

Although ranking highest in number of forest fires, Michigan had less damage and less acreage burned over than her neighboring lake states of Wisconsin and Minnesota during the year of 1933.

This is brought out in a report covering the three states recently issued by the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

The Forest Service called 1933 a bad fire year. The number of forest fires occurring in the three lake states was found to have been the largest on record and the area burned over twice that of 1932.

In figuring the costs of fire prevention and fire suppression plus damage the National Forest Service found that Michigan was low. The figures are: Michigan $754,043; Wisconsin, $902,024; Minnesota $1,142,982.

Michigan spent $346,429 on fire prevention during 1933 and $241,484 on fire suppression. Wisconsin's expenditures were: Prevention, $246,163; suppression $328,818; Minnesota's, prevention, $284,662; suppression $160,007.

AMUSEMENTS

"I've Got Your Number" and "Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen" are the titles of the double feature program at the Delft theatre today and tomorrow.

The romantic and human elements that lie behind the operation of the gigantic telephone system of the country are featured in the new Warner Bros. picture, "I've Got Your Number."

In this picture, Joan Blondell is given unusual opportunity, not only to carry out in her breezy style lively comedy situations, but to demonstrate emotional and dramatic talent. For the story by Warren Duff and Sidney Sutherland touches on every phase of life in the contact of telephone employees with the public, presenting the many interesting incidents of real, daily occurrences, scenes of pathos, tragedy and thrilling action.

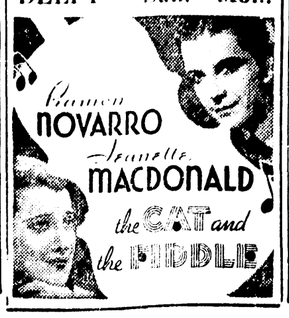

"Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen," the first picture dealing with the crime of kidnaping, revealing the inside story of the snatch racket, when her baby is kidnaped, at the Delft Theatre.

It was produced by Paramount with Dorothea Wieck and Alice Brady in co-starring roles and featuring Baby LeRoy, Jack LaRue, Alan Hale, Dorothy Burgess and George Barbier.

Alexander Hall directed from Rupert Hughes original story, was brought to the screen by Adela Rogers St. Johns.

The story is vital, fast-moving.

CURTIS NEWS

Curtis, Mich.—Primary election at Curtis showed action. Several candidates were on the ballots. The votes cast for those on the "New Deal" ticket were for Supervisor, Robert McConnell, 74; Chas. Burke, 32. Clerk, Harry Allen, 15. Treasurer, Wid Londo, 79. Road Commissioner, John Hass, 74.

Votes cast for those on the Republican ticket were: Supervisor, Clarence Grant, 49. Clerk, E. L. Detmer, 45. Treasurer, Bert Feneley, 49. Road Commissioner, Chas. Long, 45. George Sanford, 15. Justice, Jas. Anderson, 30; Jas. Gish, 25.

Twin babies were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lawson Monday morning. The boy died a few hours after birth, the girl is still living.

Wright Feneley, Russell Taylor and Mrs. Wilfred Brown, who accompanied Mrs. Henry Waterbury to Detroit a couple of weeks ago, arrived home Monday. Mrs. Waterbury is remaining in Lower Michigan for medical treatments.

The township board met all day Tuesday for settlement of township books and affairs.

A group of CCC boys have been laying 'mattresses' in Manistique lake, near Forrest Inn. They finished there Tuesday. Those mattresses, made of brush afford protection for fish.

A pre-nuptial shower was held for Miss Lurli McGahan last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Geo. Sanford. A pot-luck dinner was served. Many nice presents were received. Those present were: Mrs. Wm. Grant, Mrs. Jas. Rosebush, Mrs. Ned Gleason, Mrs. C. Walsh and little daughter Mary, Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Jas. Painter, Mrs. David Hearn, Mrs. Rose Hinds and daughter, Eva Campbell, Mrs. Leonard Gager, Mrs. Jack McGahan, Mrs. Geo. Sanford, Mrs. M. O. Hoig, Miss Margaret Sherbrook, Miss Kell, Miss Olive Ackley, Miss Gladys Anderson, Miss Elsie Kovahka, Miss Tona Stamper and Miss Lurii McGahan.

A good turn out at the Calico club last Wednesday, resulted in an unusual amount of quilting done on a double wedding ring quilt for Mrs. John Gowan and a flower garden quilt for Mrs. David Hearn. A double wrench quilt was taken off the frames at the previous meeting. This quilt was for Mrs. H. Emery. An eccentric star quilt is on hand to be quilted for Mrs. Glenn Morrison. There will be proceeds from this quilt to add to the church Aids' treasury.

Matinee Musical Event Saturday

A program of choral music and music of the Eastertide has been arranged by Mrs. H. H. McMillan, and will be presented by the Munising Matinee Musical club at the Beach Inn tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Following is the program in the order to be presented:

Voices of the Woods, Rubinstein
High school chorus, under the direction of Leland Randall.

Baritone solo, Sing, Smile and Summer, Gounod—William Walters; accompanist, Nina Wolkoff.

Vocal duet, Easter Eve, Gounod—Mrs. Clara Hackel and Mrs. H. H. McMillan; accompanist, Mrs. L. Randall.

Untold Ye Portals, from the Redemption, Gounod, and Come Unto Me, Gounod—Methodist Episcopal church choir; accompanist, Bonita Vickman.

The Down and Outer, Leonard Hay—Louis Merwin.

Vocal trio, Down in the Lily Garden, Wilson, and I Cannot Always Trace the Way, Noyes—Gladys Hanson, May Seaberg, Helen Norberg; accompanist, Bonita Vickman.

Violin solos, To Spring, Grieg, and Orientale (Kaleidescope) C. Cui—Lyle Atkins; accompanist, Nina Wolkoff.

Vocal trio, Lift Thine Eyes, Mendelssohn, and God's Way Is Best—Mrs. Sloss, Mrs. Hackel and Mrs. McMillan.

MUNISING BRIEFS

The Roderick (Buck) Prato Post of the American Legion will celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the American Legion Saturday night at the Legion club. The program will be a stag affair and there will be something doing every minute, according to those in charge of the celebration. The celebration will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock and will consist of songs, entertainments, square dances, stunts, special numbers, Dutch lunch, coffee and beer. Everything is free to the members and visiting Legionnaires are welcome.

Wednesday, the first day of spring, was a very cold and stormy March day, and according to Albert Oas, local weather observer, the thermometer registered 16 below zero Wednesday night.

The South Shore passenger train coming from St. Ignace and due at Wemore at 1 p. m. was four hours late Wednesday afternoon due to being unable to negotiate the heavy snowdrifts this side of Seney. A special engine had to be sent for. As the result there was no afternoon delivery of mail from the east.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will meet in the church parlors next Wednesday afternoon, March 28. Mrs. James Eymer and Mrs. John Lezotte will be the hostesses.

A report from Iron Mountain that John Dillinger, the desperado, was seen in that vicinity recently, strengthens the contention that it might have been Dillinger who stopped here at a local gas station and newsstand last Saturday. Chief of Police Alfred Engman said, however, that he would scout any stock in the report. He thinks that Dillinger has other means of hiding from the public than traveling alone in an automobile.

Authorities in Alger county wish to call the attention of automobile drivers who have not their new 1934 license plates that the deadline is March 25 and that all will be compelled to comply with the law.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

Sunday school will convene at 10. Morning worship at 11. Theme will be in keeping with Palm Sunday. The choir will sing "The Palms," by Fause. A tenor solo, "Jerusalem," Parker, will be sung by Harold Bjornstad.

Junior League at 2 p. m. Intermediate and Epworth Leagues at 6:30.

Evening service, 7:30. At this hour a special musical program will be presented by the choir members. After a special song service by the audience the following numbers will be given:

Choose Ye This Day, Roberts—Choir.

An Evening Hymn, Pease—Quartet, Mr. Randall, Clara Hackel, Amy Leese and Rev. Roberts.

O God Who Hast Prepared, Gaul—Choir.

I Cannot Trace the Way, Noyes—Trio, Gladys Hanson, Helen Norberg and aMe Seaberg.

Bass solo, Jesus Lover of My Soul, Tours—Walter Warren.

Forever With the Lord, Williams—Choir.

A short sermonet by the pastor.

Special for Holy Week

Services each evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. The following themes will be taken up for discussion:

Monday—Who Is This Jesus?

Tuesday—The Purpose of the Cross.

Wednesday He Went a Little Farther.

Thursday - Our Lord's Last Prayer.

Friday The Day of Suffering. It is finished. This service will be held from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m.

Welcome is our watchword to all services.

Rev. James Roberts, minister.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our most sincere thanks and appreciation to our many kind friends for their sympathy and the kindness shown us during our recent bereavement in the loss of our dear daughter and sister, Isabelle. We wish especially to thank Father Manderfield, the pallbearers, the Munising Woodenware employees, those who sent floral and spiritual bouquets, those who donated their cars, and also, those who have gave their time and help in any other way. Their kindness will always be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hill and family.

Mrs. A. Paregio To Address P. T. A.

Mrs. A. Paregeio of Crystal Falls, chairman of the seventh district of the state branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will spend next Monday, March 26, in Munising. Mrs. Paregeio will hold a school of instruction for the executive boards of each local unit of the association.

In the evening Mrs. Paregeio will speak at the regular meeting of the high school division of the Munising Parent-Teacher association. The program is set for 8 p. m., and there will also be a good program of music. Mrs. Paregeio has chosen for her subject one that will be of special interest to all parents of children in school. The high school unit accordingly extends a cordial invitation to every member of the P. T. A. and to every parent to be present and to hear this very worthwhile address.

Danes Cut Tax Exemptions

Copenhagen (AP)—The home secretary has introduced a bill in the folketing altering the law by which all members of the royal family have been exempt from income tax. The bill provides that only the king, his sons and daughters would remain on the list.

Will Grant License To Shoot Predators

Want to do a little "plinking" or shoot predators this spring and summer? You may obtain a permit to do so, provided you have a 1933-1934 small game hunting license.

The legislature last year made the possession of a hunting license a pre-requisite for a gun permit. Only persons holding 1933-34 small game licenses will be eligible to apply.

Permits, which will expire September 30, are being issued by conservation officers or directly from the department. They allow possession of firearms in closed hunting areas.

NO LIQUOR FOR VOTES

Menominee—After receipt yesterday of many requests for liquor from persons who said they had supported his candidacy for renomination in Monday's primary election, Mayor Albert G. Cherney requested the Herald-Leader to publish the following statement:

"I have been approached by persons asking me to contribute to so called 'booze campaign funds,' I desire to make my opinion clear on this type of booze election racketeering.

"If such persons or gangs have no further interest in their city government, if they cannot content themselves that my efforts are sincerely in the interest of the masses of the citizens of Menominee; further, if it is necessary for me to first satisfy the booze appetites of such persons in order to obtain their political support, I emphatically state that I will not yield to any such element or political racket.

"It is my opinion that there is a sufficient number of decent, respectful persons of character and principal in this city who value good clean political campaigns to the extent that it should not be necessary for me to yield to such elements."

I would not consider selling the Giants unless so much money were offered that no sensible man could refuse.
—Charles A. Stoneham, president of New York Giants.

GARDEN NEWS

Garden, Mich.—Mr. and Mrs. Max Wakeman and baby have been visiting at the Napoleon Boudreau home. They expect to make their home here during the summer since Mr. Wakeman's work in the conservation department is confined to the upper peninsula during the next few months.

Mrs. Ossie Hazen, township treasurer, motored to Escanaba Wednesday to transact official business at the court house.

James Tatrow motored to Escanaba Wednesday to get his wife and son, Kenneth from the St. Francis hospital. He was accompanied by Edward Lamotte.

Mrs. Elmer Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Winter, Miss Meta Winter and Mrs. Alex McLeod went to Escanaba Friday. The weather was so severe that they decided to stay overnight with relatives in town with the exception of Mrs. McLeod, who left for Winegar, Wis. The rest of the party returned to Garden Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bonifas of Isabella visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McLeod of Van's Harbor Saturday night.

Don Farley, who has been spending a short time with his sister, Mrs. Heric of Manistique, returned Tuesday.

Mrs. Ed Purtell, daughter Mildred and Mrs. John Heric of Manistique motored to Escanaba Tuesday before the latter returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farley and Mr. Andy Cooper attended the birthday party which was arranged for the latter's son, Alex of Manistique, Sunday.

Pupils leaving the high school a little early Friday morning experienced quite a thrill. They saw a deer which bounded across the big field opposite the school and then disappeared into the woods east of town. It left blood on the trail.

The Dalsem club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Joque by Miss Ella Tuesday night.

Miss Leola Farley was hostess to the G. Y. M. club Thursday evening, at a dress-up party. Miss Ermaline Boudreau took the prize for the most fascinating costume.

Anton Lecksaw, aged farmer from the Polish Settlement, passed away Wednesday morning after a heart seizure. He had been suffering from asthma for several years. He was 68 years of age.

Quite a few ladies from town braved the severe cold of Wednesday afternoon to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Wm. Winter jr., who entertained the Guild at her home in Van's Harbor. Mrs. Elmer Winter is the next hostess Wednesday, April 4.

Mrs. Frank Thill motored to Escanaba Wednesday to visit her brother-in-law, Theophil Michaud, who passed away at the St. Francis hospital that day. Her sister preceded him in death several years ago.

Several members of the J. F. F. club, Fayette, attended the basket social sponsored by the Ladies' Aid and the J. F. M. club of the Congregational church, Isabella, Saturday evening. They report a good time despite the stormy weather.

Mrs. H. Heafield, son Gordon and Dick Schram motored to Escanaba Wednesday evening, the former remaining there till Saturday.

School in Trenary Has CWA Project

Trenary, Mich. — The high school building at Trenary is being completely redecorated inside by C. W. A. help. Only those rooms under the process of redecoration are dismissed at a time. Last week the high school students were dismissed until Thursday while the assembly and four class rooms were being worked in. At present the grade rooms in the old part of the building are being painted. The remaining rooms, hall, etc., will be taken care of before the end of next week.

Another project that of lowering the ceiling and decorating the gymnasium was begun Monday. Twenty-four more men reported for work Monday and Tuesday. Two shifts of carpenters began working Tuesday. All of these improvements will be made without cost to the district. The workers are almost without exception, local men.

Canadian Expert To Inspect Wreck

G. H. J. Snider of Toronto, well known as a Great Lakes yachtsman and student of marine lore, will come to Hessel in a short time to examine the wreck recently found there, and which is believed to be that of the first sailing vessel on the upper Great Lakes.

Mr. Snider made a detailed examination of the hull and timbers which were found at Meldrum Bay, Manitoulin Island, Ontario, about three years ago, and which were at first thought to be parts of the Griffin. The Manitoulin wreck was even more battered than the one found near Hessel, and identification would have been a matter of great difficulty.

"The Griffin was a vessel of 45 to 60 tons, and about 60 feet long," said Mr. Snider. "The timbers of the wreck at Meldrum bay were of a size hardly compatible with a vessel that small. Other clues have been followed up and searches made for the wreck of the Griffin in the Canadian waters of Georgian bay and Lake Huron.

"The discovery of the hulk in a Cheneaux islands channel is worth following up carefully," continued Mr. Snider. "The hole in the bottom found by Mr. McCoy has been taken to support La Salle's suspicion that the craft had been scuttled in his absence. However, the assumption can hardly be verified unless the craft's identity can be proved.

"Inasmuch as there was no ship registry on the Great Lakes in 1679, and as the Griffin probably carried no distinguishing hull marks other than a carved figure head likely to be disintegrated by this time, it seems that identity of the Birch island wreck, if it is that of the Griffin, can be best established by finding and observing the pattern of the small cannon which she is known to have carried. Later in the spring I intend to go to Hessel and examine the wreck."

THOMPSON NEWS

Thompson, Mich.—Mrs. Stanley Shust was pleasantly surprised on the occasion of her birthday anniversary Monday. Cards were the afternoon diversion after which a delicious two course luncheon was served. Those present include Mesdames, H. M. Squires, H. G. Squires, Tom Smith, Reuben Peterson, Tom Arnold, George LaPlante, John Olson, Archie Johnson, Percy Tuffnel, Ole Edwardson of Thompson and Joseph Turpin, Andy Fakkety, Cecil Johnson and Miss Francis Jenks of Manistique. A bridge lamp was presented to her as a memento of the happy event.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Popour of Cooks were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wellar Squires the past week.

The various 4-H clubs at the school are busily preparing their handiwork for achievement day to be given soon.

Farmers are busy getting their allotment of wheat delivered at Manistique through the services of county agent the past week. There is also a shortage of hay throughout the township.

Crows, harbinger of spring are quite numerous in this vicinity.

Mrs. John Bloom Jr., of Brevort is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Stanley.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lalonde accompanied by Mrs. James Herro of Escanaba were visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Edwardson on Friday.

Gertrude Johnson celebrated her 6th birthday anniversary on Wednesday by entertaining a number of her class mates at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Johnson. The following children attended. Iris and Winifred Winandy, Helen and Zeta Hursh, Margaret, Dorothy, Laura May and Glenn Nelson, Betty and Erwin Chesbrough, Laverle, Jack and Hal Olsen, Percy, Bruce and Kenneth Tuffnel, Nan Butler, Robert, Edward and Jimmy Laplante, Winifred Arnold, Raymond Shust, Gertrude, Carrol, Gerome and Gail Johnson, Vivian and Fay Smith, Geraldine and Charleen Johnson. St. Patrick's color scheme was carried in the decorations with a beautiful birthday cake with six green tapers. Miss Gertrude received many pretty gifts.

Tom Smith left on Friday for Detroit to enter the Ford hospital at that place for a nose ailment. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Bridge Tournament Results Announced

Results of the fifth matches in the auction division of the Elks bridge tournament played Tuesday evening at the club were announced on Thursday.

Observance of Passover Will Begin March 30

Beginning this year on Friday, March 30, and lasting for one week, Pesach, the annual Feast of Passover or of Unleavened Bread, will be celebrated in Jewish homes and Synagogues. This, the oldest feast of the Jewish calendar, carries as back well nigh thirty-three hundred years. The awakening of spring has its normal appeal and its practical symbolism to every people. The agricultural aspect of this holiday is seen in the phrase "that it is to be kept in the season of the month of ripenings," when the barley sown in winter has become ripe and when an offering consisting of an omer (one-half gallon) of barley was brought in gratitude to the Giver of all good.

The historical significance of the festival has over-shadowed its agricultural aspect. As the Feast of Freedom, it commemorates the emancipation of Israel from Egyptian bondage and its entrance into the dignity and destiny of national life. It thus marks the birth of the Hebrew people and the first Commonwealth. An entire people walked forth as free citizens without a drop of blood having been spilt or a sword unsheathed.

The main characteristic of the Passover celebration has always been domestic. In the homes the families and the invited friends gather on the first and second evenings to recount in song and story amid appropriate symbolism the deliverance of Israel. The main symbols of this Seder Service are the roasted lamb bone reminding them of the lamb brought as a sacrifice in ancient times; second, the Matzoth or unleavened bread to be eaten during the whole week, recalling not only the hasty preparation with which the Israelites hurried out of Egypt, but also their absolute reliance upon God and readiness to trust in His leadership; and the bitter herbs, suggesting vividly the bitter life of their forefathers in Egypt. These, even today, have not lost their poignant application.

Two other symbols of the table decorations ought to be noted; namely, the four cups of wine allowed to each one are reminders of the fourfold phrase in which God couched the first "Declaration of Independence," and the cup of wine meant for the prophet Elijah who, always present in spirit, brought ever anew the message of undying hope of the Messianic reign of universal justice, freedom, and peace.

The Feast of the Passover has not lost its thrilling significance to the modern Jew. To those still enslaved in intolerant lands, it sings of ultimate redemption, while to those living under the blessed flag of freedom it teaches the ceaseless lesson of gratitude together with an appreciation of the higher civic duties and responsibilities of constitutional liberty.

Eastern Star Will Present Play April 16

"Three Moss Roses," a three-act comedy by Helen A. Monsell, will be presented by R. C. Hatheway Chapter, No. 49, Order of the Eastern Star, at the Masonic Temple the evening of Monday, April 26, it was announced Thursday.

The production will be under the capable direction of Mrs. G. W. Moll, who has a large number of successful plays to her credit.

Rehearsals are beginning at once and will be held regularly.

Announcement of the cast and of other details in connection with the play will be made later.

Mothers' pension laws are in force in 45 states and the District of Columbia.

Miss Edel Knutsen, 1015 First avenue north, has accepted a position with the department of state at Lansing and will leave this evening for the capital to assume her duties.

Today's Recipe

Spinach Baskets

Chop spinach well after cooking and season with lemon juice. Pack in individual ring molds. Keep hot in hot water. Turn out and fill centers with tiny balls or dice of cooked, well seasoned carrots. Top with cream sauce if desired.

Fried Oysters

Run 12 salted crackers thru the food chopper. Beat 1 egg lightly. Take large, fresh oysters, dip in egg and then in cracker crumbs and fry in very hot butter. Season to taste.

Smart Spring Shoes

New spring shoes come down to earth as other wearing apparel flutters cloudward. Though suits, coats and dresses are wind-blown and breeze-swept, 1934's Easter bootery features lowered heels. This is one year when you can be comfortable and in style at the same time. And it's grand news for tall girls who go dancing. You can cling to high heels if you fancy them, but how pleasant that you don't have to!

After heels in importance are colors and fabrics. Black shoes, of course, are always good but many smart little girls are going to be shod in navy blue, yellowish brown, prints and paisleys, depending upon the costume to be matched.

As for fabrics well, if you don't look individual, it's your own fault! Nobody says that you must stick to kid, suede or even plain leather, for that matter. Instead, those in the know tell you to go out and be as different as you please.

For instance, Palm Beach cloth, gaberdine, silk crepes and tweedish linens are used in profusion for street and afternoon shoes. And for evening there are satins, hand-painted linens and piques that are beautiful enough for the feet of queens. Some are cut so low as to reveal heels, toes and indeed everything but the sole.

Cocktail shoes to go with those long, slinky dresses have small glasses and sometimes shakers painted on the gleaming black satin.

Because the fabrics and their treatment are so exquisite, there's an almost complete dearth of cluttering bows, buckles and gadgets, for which fashion gods be praised!

Illustrated here are six pairs of shoes that are chic enough to grace any spring wardrobe. Stock up with these and your foot problems are solved until skies turn gray to announce that fall is on the way.

In the upper panel, reading left to right, are three daytime models. The first is a grand one-strap sports shoe that is the perfect complement for a very British tweed suit. Later on it will be smart on the porch of the country club. It's of tan calf with perforated brown calf trimming and has a suave built-up heel of medium height.

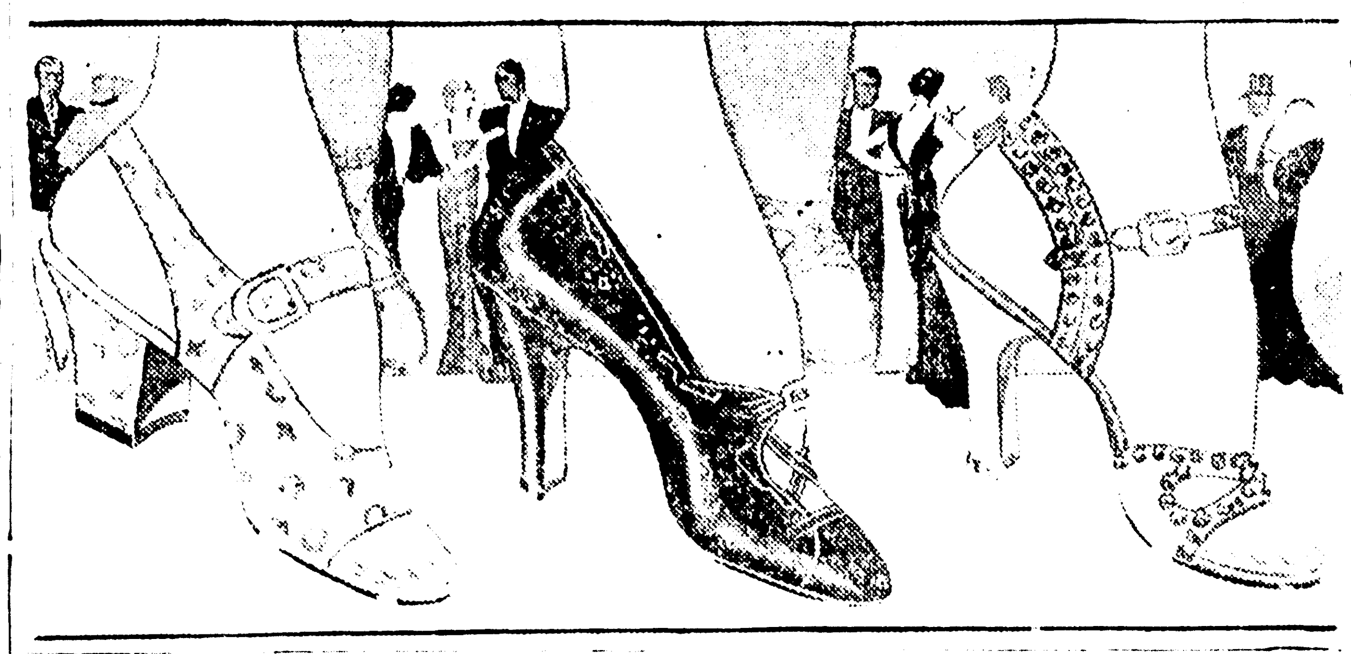

In the center is a smart street pump. It comes in gray or beige palm beach cloth trimmed with either black or tan calf. This heel, too, is lower.

The dressy pump which has been designed for a dressmaker's suit or a silk dress and coat ensemble is a flattering little number for the Easter parade. Nice enough to wear with any informal costume any hour of the day, it's of blue kid with a contrasting kid trimming.

In the bottom row are three pairs of fancy shoes for parties. The first one (left) is made of hand-painted pique and was designed to go with cotton or linen summer evening frocks. The heel is extraordinarily low and the toe is completely missing.

Cocktail pumps (center) have little gold glasses painted on them. These heels are quite high.

The newest wrinkle of all is the Cleopatra sandal (right) made of tiny multi-colored mirrors appliqued on white satin.

Tea Gown Has Full Train

Washington (P) Hyacinth blue satin was worn by Mrs. John Caswell, Jr. at a recent tea. The gown was made with flowing sleeves and a long train. A bouquet of orchids, repeating the color of the gown, was clipped to one shoulder.

The Declaration of Independence had 56 signers.

State Congress of P-T-A Will Meet in April

"Social and Economic Safeguards for Children" will be the theme of the convention of Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers at Grand Rapids April 25, 26 and 27. Mrs. David W. Stewart of Saginaw, President of the Congress, has announced.

The place of Parent-Teacher organizations in the new social order will be a secondary or coordinate theme.

Dean W. W. Whitehouse of Albion College who will speak at the afternoon session, Wednesday, April 25, comes to the Convention with a background of experience as an educator, author and lecturer. He is dean and professor of sociology at Albion College, is a frequent contributor to magazines of sociology and delivers addresses to such youth gatherings as the, "International Students' Conference" at Lake Geneva, to agricultural groups like the, "Illinois Farm Week Conference" at the University of Illinois and "Federations of Women's Clubs" of Michigan and Illinois.

Another outstanding educator on the Grand Rapids program is Dr. Rollo G. Reynolds, principal of the Horace Mann School, Teachers College, Columbia University. Dr. Reynolds believes that education is as broad as life and although he has degrees from Columbia and Dartmouth he says that this formal education is the least part of his real education.

In the address of Mrs. A. H. Reeve of Philadelphia, the delegates will get the views of an able and experienced friend of children and the schools. She is a former president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and for six years president of the International Federation of Home and School.

Other speakers will be announced as the plans of the convention mature. Among other interesting features of the program will be the Father Singers and Mother Singers and the Grand Rapids Teachers Chorus.

This Michigan Congress convention will include delegations from organizations including 61 councils and 1,064 local Parent-Teacher Associations.

Births

An eight-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bazinet of Rock Wednesday, March 21, at the home of Mrs. N. J. Trombley, 2008 North Second avenue. Mrs. Bazinet was formerly Verlie Trombley of Rock. Both mother and baby are doing nicely.

Church Events

Christian Science Churches

"Matter" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 25.

Among the Bible ctiations is this passage (Luke 21: 27, 28): "And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and life up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 95): "Lulled by stupefying illusions, the world is asleep in the cradle of infancy, dreaming away the hours. Material sense does not unfold the facts of existence; but spirtiual sense lifts human consciousness into eternal Truth."

Baking Film This Morning

Escanaba women will be particularly interested in a film, "Baking Made Easy," arranged by the Russell-Miller Milling company, which will be shown this morning at 10 o'clock at the Delft theatre. The film will present close-ups of detailed recipe procedure and will show preparation of ingredients, manipulation of dough and other phases of baking. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

DEBATE TO BE HELD APRIL 3

Judges and Chairman Selected; Final Details Being Arranged

Tuesday, April 3, has been definitely set as the date for the Gladstone-Oscoda debate, one of four quarter-final arguments to be held within the next week or ten days to decide the state semi-finalists.

Agreement as to date was ironed out yesterday. According to the original schedule all quarter-final arguments were to have been held on or before March 30. This, however, is the date upon which Good Friday falls and both schools desired a change. Permission of the state forensic association was necessary for postponement and this was obtained yesterday.

The three judge system will be used to decide the winner and the men chosen to officiate are the Rev. Dr. Glenn Blackburn of Manistique, Prof. Forrest A. Roberts and Prof. Gunther C. Meyland, both of Northern State Teachers' college, Marquette. The latter two were named by President Pearce of Northern State at the request of Supt. B. C. Fairman of the Oscoda school.

Atty. Glenn W. Jackson will preside as chairman. Preceding the argument there will be selections by the high school orchestra, string quartet and boys' glee club.

Arrangements are being made by the Forensic club to entertain the visiting debaters in local homes during their stay in Gladstone. A social event in their honor will also probably be held at the school.

MORE VETERANS MAY JOIN CCC

Information As to Number Interested Is Sought Here

Additional enrollment of veterans in the Civilian Conservation corps is to be made soon and the Veterans' Administration at Detroit is interested in knowing the number of veterans in this community who would be interested in enrolling in the veterans' contingent of the Civilian Conservation corps, according to a letter received here by Commander A. D. Alguire of August Mattson Post, American Legion.

Commander Alguire stated yesterday that it is likely the local post will attempt to get together the desired information.

The opening paragraph of the communication which came over the signature of Guy F. Palmer, manager, reads:

"In connection with the continuance of the Civilian Conservation corps, as authorized by the president subject to a suitable appropriation by congress of the necessary funds, it now becomes necessary for us to make plans for additional enrollment of veterans for replacement in the companies now established whose strength is below that authorized."

Mrs. Ray Manning and children, Galah and Billy, left yesterday for their home in Garnet following a few days' visit here enroute to their home from Green Bay, Wis., where they visited with the Norbert Valinds. During their stay they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Siebert, 1306 Michigan avenue.

CITY BRIEFS

Mrs. Elmer Beaudry, 913 Wisconsin avenue, submitted to an operation Tuesday morning at the Bellin Memorial hospital at Green Bay, Wis., and is getting along as well as can be expected. Mr. Beaudry motored down yesterday morning to spend the day with her.

Byron Skellenger is expected to arrive from East Lansing on Saturday for a spring vacation visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Skellenger. Byron is a student at the Michigan State college.

Mrs. Ida Erickson left last night for Benton Harbor and Bay City for a month's stay. She will visit with a sister, Mrs. Miller, of Benton Harbor, and a brother at Bay City. On her return she will spend several days in Minneapolis.

Severt Jacobson, Al Madden, and Bert Raymond have left for Superior having been called back to work by the Soo Line railway.

Mrs. Herman Bramer, Mrs. Martin Kousbaugh, Mrs. Herman Peterson, and Mrs. John Swartz, of Nahma, were guests on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Jerry Clark.

Mrs. Norman Kee is expected home Saturday from Chicago where she has been spending the past several weeks.

Miss Margaret LaFaver, student at Northern State Teachers' college, will arrive from Marquette tonight to spend a week's vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. LaFaver.

Mrs. George Pease, Sr., is visiting at the Tom Jones home at Flat Rock this week.

Mrs. Sarah Hawks and son, Robert, and Mrs. Napoleon Boudah of Rapid River visited here yesterday.

SOCIAL SERVICE ORGANIZED HERE

New Department Added To Emergency Welfare Set-Up

Miss Emma Johnson, county nurse, and Frank Fouchard, investigator of the county emergency welfare relief commission, were appointed as case workers in a new set-up for direct relief to be known as the social service department. The appointments were made by the county emergency relief commission which acted upon the suggestion of Mrs. Richard Nebel, of Munising, the upper peninsula field representative of case workers whose headquarters are at Caspian. Mrs. Nebel conferred with local officials Wednesday and Thursday.

It is definitely understood, however, that Miss Johnson will continue in her capacity as county nurse along with her newly assigned duties. The latter work, however, is expected to take the major portion of her time.

Miss Johnson and Mr. Fouchard will visit all homes of county indigent in order to definitely ascertain the conditions, environment, and needs of each family which is on the relief rolls. In this way a more fair and beneficial distribution of necessities such as food and clothing can be made in the future. Every family receiving direct relief will have been visited and investigated by either one of the two case workers. Investigations of this nature are being required by the government of all relief organizations dependent upon federal aid.

The county has been divided into several districts in which the case workers will be assigned, each worker having charge of all direct relief work within their respective districts. Whether or not families are eligible for relief rests with their decisions.

The social service department, as a unit of the county emergency welfare relief organization set-up, will be located in the basement of the court house in the office used by the county nurse. Each of the social case workers will have certain specified office hours on designated days of the week in which to maintain their records. Miss Marie Tracy will act as office secretary. While no definite office hours have as yet been arranged, both workers will have hours on Saturday mornings.

Organization of the social service department was not effected up to this time because of the functioning of work relief and the civil works program which direct relief was a negligible factor in welfare work. With the demobilization of CWA and the fact that work relief has been abolished since early this winter, the need for direct relief has become greater, local welfare officials stated yesterday.

Previously the functions of the social service work were in charge of Mr. Fouchard whose office duties prevented him from conducting case work.

Except for the addition of the social service department, no other changes have been made in the county emergency welfare relief set-up. William Marin, county CWA administrator, will have executive control over the new department in conjunction with his supervisory work over CWA and work relief in the form of the new works division which will become effective on April 1 when it will supplant civil works activities.

Division Meets

Twenty members of the Westside Division of the Methodist Ladies' Aid society were guests at the home of Mrs William Mueller, River street, Wednesday afternoon.

Articles for the apron sale on Saturday were completed and the guests also sewed quilts. A delicious lunch was served at the close of the afternoon.

Vedic Home Gutted By Fire Wednesday

Fire, said to have been caused by sparks on the roof, gutted the residence of John Vedic, corner of Maple and Elm streets, in a blaze which started shortly before noon Wednesday. Firemen battled the stubborn blaze for hours as the flames rapidly ate their way into the old frame structure.

The roof, which was enveloped in flames when the department arrived, soon caved in, leaving only the charred sides and first floor of the home intact. Household goods on the second floor were destroyed in the blaze, but most of the furnishings on the first floor were brought out safely.

The structure is the property of Schoolcraft county, having been deeded to it by the Charcoal Iron company. The fire was similar to the one that about a month ago destroyed the company house which had been occupied by the Lamuth and Jimmo families.

CITY BRIEFS

The condition of Milton Cousineau, who sustained a fractured skull and broken left arm in an auto accident Sunday morning, was greatly improved yesterday. Although he has not completely regained consciousness, physicians state that his chances of recovery are favorable.

Miss Elsie Johnson, who has been spending the past few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson, 142 South Third street, returned to Minneapolis Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith and children, of Gladstone, were the guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Skoog, Schoolcraft avenue.

Miss Kathaleen McNamara, who is a student at Michigan State Teachers' college, East Lansing, will arrive tomorrow to spend the spring vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McNamara, 425 Walnut street.

A baby daughter was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Watson at the home of Mrs. Clyde Miller, Schoolcraft avenue. Mother and daughter are getting along nicely.

Don Farley, of Garden, has been visiting in the city as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Heric.

Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Cota and Miss Margaret Thomas motored to Escanaba Tuesday to attend the funeral of James E. Patton, held in Escanaba Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lyntz, of Calspar, visited in the city yesterday with relatives.

Mrs. Harold LaFoille and son, Dolor Jerome, will be dismissed from the home of Mrs. Emma LaChappell, the latter part of the week and expect to return to their home at Harrison Beach.

Additional Manistique News Will Be Found on Page 12.

MARATHONS BANNED

Menominee—There will be no marathon dances, no walkathons, swimathons, skatatons, estathons, standathons, rockatons, jumpathons, or other kinds of endurance contests to tempt the youth of Menominee to contest for prizes.

Menominee council in meeting last night clamped the lid on such endurance contests by passing a city ordinance prohibiting endurance contests.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our gratitude for the beautiful flowers sent and the acts of kindness extended us in our recent bereavement.

The Creighton Family.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, March 22 (AP)—Stocks looked more cheerful today, contributing a quiet rally to the general improvement noted in speculative markets. Turnover, however, was not much more than a million shares.

Bonds lagged a bit, but numerous commodities closed with small gains. In stocks, sluggish firmness through the morning and early afternoon encouraged the list to a mild last hour-markup and leading issues were up fractions to more than two points net.

News bearing on the automobile conference was scarce during market hours, but traders seemed disposed to be hopeful of a settlement and shorts doubtless did some covering against the possibility of favorable eventualities. Motor shares were fairly active at higher levels, Nash, General Motors and Chrysler improving a point or so. Steels made about as good a showing, while metals developed considerable strength. Numerous rails were up one to two which Wall Street took as their response to news that Coordinator Eastman was to arbitrate difficulties between workers and managers.

Mining shares had little to work on that was definite. U. S. Smelting, still the leader, got assistance from a $1 extra dividend and the report on earnings. Last year netted $6.68 a share for the common stock against 62 cents in 1932, while for January and February of this year the company made $1.18 a common share, contrasted with one cent a year ago. The stock gained nearly 5 net. Alaska Juneau, which retained the customary 15 cent extra disbursement, gained slightly, but Dome, McIntyre, American Smelting and Cerro De Pasco rose 1 to 2. The market's average gain was 1.5 points in a volume of 1,054,250 shares; in the fourth hour only 90,000 shares changed hands.

BY VICTOR EUBANK
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, March 22 (AP)—Mildly mixed trends ruled in today's rather listless bond market.

The trading volume amounted to $12,290,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate issues was one-tenth of a point lower at 84.8.

Most U. S. government securities were slightly off as the financial district began to advance guesses as to the treasury's plans for meeting the April 15 maturity of some $1,000,000,000 of called Liberty fourth 4¼s.

In some quarters the belief was expressed that, in view of the present extremely easy money conditions, it may be decided to float a long-term bond issue at a lower interest rate than that of the maturing Liberties. With the banks loaded down with excess reserves, it was argued, such an offering probably would be quickly oversubscribed and the holders of the Liberty bonds could be paid off in cash.

Prices Steadier At Curb Closing; Utilities Are Up

BY BERNARD S. O'HARA
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, March 22 (AP)—Firmer prices prevailed at the close of the curb market today. Moderately active buying in the final dealings advanced a number of utilities, oils and specialties fractions to around a point.

Earlier trading was extremely dull. A drift toward better levels followed slight irregularity at the opening.

Natomas company, which is being split-up on a ten for one basis, provided fireworks with a rise of more than 7 points. The new stock, traded on a when issued basis, improved fractionally.

Aluminum Company of America closed 3¾ points higher on a moderate turnover. Issues finishing around a point up included Bliss corporation, American Gas & Electric, Dow Chemical, Electric Bond and Share, Gulf and Humble Oils, Hiram Walker, Lake Shore and Sherwin Williams. Wright Hargreaves gained a small fraction in an active transfer but Fisk Rubber showed a similar recession.

Sales approximated 232,000 shares compared with 253,000 for Wednesday.

caped had been found, he read. Then followed conjecture, built on the fact that the murderer might have escaped, leaving the empty boat as a hoax. Measures were being taken to cover every possible avenue of escape, the newspaper report concluded.

"Is that so?" Beau questioned softly. He leaned from a window, letting the newspaper blow far in the wind. Pablito must not see that newspaper, to be urged by his conscience into confessing what he knew of that night and of the three who had escaped together. No, Pablito must not see it. And now Beau and Lottie were free as the air and Pablito was more than ever in Beau's power.

HULA IN HAWAII

Honolulu, (AP) Hawaii, long pictured by tourist advertisements as a pleasure resort where things are a little bit closer to nature than elsewhere, is being advised by some quarters the time is ripe to tell the world the islands are civilized.

Delegate Lincoln L. McCandless returned home from congress in revolt against "hula girl" advertising, which, he said, gave the mainland a distorted picture of Hawaii and made his task in Washington doubly hard.

"Such stuff," he asserted, "makes people on the mainland think we are an uncivilized and unclothed people."

The Honolulu Star Bulletin, editorially urging a campaign to advertise Hawaii's industries and progress, rapped the territorial advertising bureau for "concentrating on moonlight hulas and Waikiki."

Girls in Japan are now being allowed to proclaim their charms over the radio in that country, and they invite inquiries from prospective husbands.

Old Skill Fails Bobby Jones in Golf Comeback

AUGUSTA FIELD JUST TOO FAST

Former World Champion Gets 76; Three Tied at 70, Under Par

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Augusta, Ga., March 22 (AP)—The short stocky figure of golf's one-time Napoleon strode over the rolling battleground of Georgia today to revive a flock of vivid memories but strike only a few flashes of the commanding skill that marked his championship days as the big pjrofessional parade galloped past him on the field of action.

It wasn't exactly a Waterloo for Bob Jones, back to the wars after nearly four years of retirement, but the imminent Georgia barrister was unable either to locate the target with any consistency at short-distance or match the swift pace of a combined charge by the old guard and the new. As a consequence, the former world champion signalized his return to battle by scoring a 76, four over par, and finishing the first round exactly six strokes behind the pace-setters for the initial 18 holes of the $5,000 Masters' invitation tournament.

As if encouraged by Bob's shaky start, the light horse cavalry swarmed over the beautiful course to such an extent that nearly half the field of 72 passed Jones by the end of the day's skirmishing. The Georgian was buried away down the list, tied for 35th place, in the professional rush to take his measure.

The opening round was so hotly contested that a triple tie developed for the first 18 holes of the four-day 72-hole route. Dark horsemen were conspicuous in the vanguard as Emmett French, the veteran from Southern Pines, N. C., and Jimmie Hines, a long hitter from Timber Point, N. Y., shot into the lead with Horton Smith of Chicago, the last pro to beat Jones in open competition, a feat he accomplished at Savannah in the spring of 1930. All three posted 70, two under par.

Not all the favorites were so well situated but, altogether, there were nine professionals with par or better for the first round and consequent advantages of four to six strokes over Jones. Most of them burned up the course in more or less obscurity, however, for just about all of the 1,000 fans in the gallery pursued Bob and the young professional favorite, Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., who had a struggle himself to score a 74 and enjoy a two-stroke lead over the former world champion.

Despite a taped left hand, which he sprained some time ago, the colorful Walter Hagen came through with a fine 71 to equal the scores previously posted by John Golden of Noroton, Sonn., Craig Wood of Dead, N. J., and the youthful Henry Picard of Charleston, S. C., thereby making a four-way tie for fourth place. In a tie for eighth position were Ky Laffoon, the sensational Denver pro, and Bill Burke of Cleveland, 1931 open champion of the United States, both with par 72's.

All except one of those finishing the day ahead of Jones were professionals, the lone amateur being 18-year-old Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., youthful member of a noted golfing family, who turned in a 75. Denny Shute, the British open king, shared the 73 bracket with Leo Diegel, also from Philadelphia, and an outsider, Joe Paletti of Chicago. MacDonald Smith, Willie MacFarlane, Bobby Cruickshank, Tom Creavy and Ed Dudley were in the big group of 74's while no fewer than three Turnesas—Mike and Joe, in addition to little Willie—were tied with Al Espinosa and Johnny Revolta at 75.

Strangely unfamiliar at such depths in golf standing was the name of Jones, who not only failed for the day, at least to strike any fear of his famous old putter, "Calamity Jane," which he contributed to the trophy room of the Royal and Ancient club of Scotland after his retirement.

With only a model of the original to employ on the greens and the fine fighting edge seemingly gone from his game, Bob quite obviously and to his own chagrin putted himself out of the running, for the time being. He missed at least a half dozen putts that measured less than six feet and used to be easy enough for him to depend on dropping half the time. His short game with the niblick also was out of tune.

Boxing Program For March 31 Announced

The best boxing program offered here to date has been arranged for the March 31 show, Art Sundling announced yesterday in revealing the card which features several outstanding scrappers from the Green Bay club.

Six bouts have already been arranged for the show and there is a possibility that a seventh fight with Boxcar Kanerva of Gwinn featured may be added to the show, provided that the necessary arrangements can be made with Kanerva.

The program thus far arranged:

Clem Walus, Green Bay, vs. Johnny Haindl, Cooks, 145 pound class.

Lester Smith, Oneida Indian, vs. Francis Vetort, Stephenson, 135 pounds.

Ed Brozyna, Green Bay, vs. Roy Anderson, Gladstone, 160 pounds.

Marcus McGinty, Green Bay, vs. Harold McMahon, Iron Mountain, 147 pounds.

Jiggs Jacobson, Daggett, vs. Bert Hellwick, Manitowoc, 130 pounds.

Joe Anderson, Gladstone, vs. Tommy Burns, Kimberly, 160 pound class.

The Jacobson-Hellwick scrap will replace the Leon Wood-Mike Kenjala proposed battle, Sundling announced, because it offers more experienced scrappers and thus a better fight for the fans.

Sundling is refereeing a boxing program at Negaunee Friday night in which Boxcar Kanerva will be the headliner, Sundling at that time will try to secure Kanerva for the Escanaba program. In the event that Kanerva consents to fight here, he will be matched with Wes Lemieux, a tough customer from Green Bay.

The Joe Anderson - Tommy Burns match will be the windup of the card at the Coliseum and promises plenty of excitement to the fans. The boys have met twice previously with Anderson getting the nod both times. In the last meeting, however, Anderson won by the scantiest of margins and Burns requested another crack at the Gladstone boy who was champion of the Green Bay division, Golden Gloves tournament, in 1933.

For Johnny Haindl, popular Cooks fighter, the March 31 show will be a great event for it marks Haindl's graduation from the novice class into the regular division. In novice competition, Haindl has eight straight victories, seven of them by technical knockouts or actual kayoes and an eighth conquest by decision. In Walus, however, Haindl probably is facing the best boy he has been called upon to meet thus far. Walus has made a great reputation for himself in Wisconsin and C. Boucher who is leader of the Green Bay team figures Walus is just the man to take the measure of the poker faced battler from Cooks.

"SEZ ME"

by Ken Gunderman

Considerable discussion has arisen in Escanaba from time to time regarding facts concerning Len Koenecke, former Escanaba ball player, who is with Brooklyn in the National League this year. Well, here's the real dope about Koenecke. He bats left handed, throws right handed, is 5 feet, 11 inches tall, weighs 180 pounds; was born January 18, 1906, at Orlando, Fla. (which makes him 28 years old now); was with Buffalo last year where he batted .333 and his fielding average .980.

Manager Charles Grimm of the Cubs had planned to use Chuck Klein in center field this season—but he forgot to consult Klein about it. Chuck turns thumbs down on the center field assignment but is willing to take either right or left field. Grimm says O. K., Chuck, you play left field. Klein claims he can't get the jump on batted balls when he's in the center garden.

—o—

The Cub outfield, as it is planned now, will be, reading left to right, Klein, Cuyler and Babe Herman, Herman's position depends upon how he will perform with the bat. If he fails to come through, Klein will go to right field and Riggs Stephenson or possibly Tuck Stainback will take the left field job. Stainback looks good to Manager Grimm but definite verdict on him won't be known until he meets big league pitching for a while.

In the Tiger camp, there is considerable speculation regarding Schoolboy Rowe. Manager Cochrane says unless Rowe shows an improvement, the hurler will be sent to Beaumont in the Texas League. A specialist failed to find anything wrong with Rowe's arm so Cochrane is wondering if the trouble isn't mostly mental. If Rowe comes around alright, he'll be a starting pitcher.

Gabby Hartnett, Cub catcher, donned a finger mitt in the Bruins' last practice at Catalina Island and went to second base. A grounder driven at him hopped against the third finger of his gloved hand. At the first aid station, it was revealed a bone had been chipped. He was back on the job—behind the plate—after a few days' rest

Favorites Clash In Women's Golf Pinehurst Final

Pinehurst, N. C., March 22. (AP) Two of the original favorites including the medalist, will clash here tomorrow to decide the 37th annual women's north and south golf championship.

They are Charlotte Glutting, South Orange, N. J., star who has been making a valiant stab at men's par throughout the four days of play, and Miss Deborah Verry, Worcester, Mass., girl.

Miss Glutting almost met her match today in Miss Anjela Gorezyca, southern champion from Fort Worth, Texas, but jumped a stymie on the eighteenth green to win one up. The thrilling climax came after the Texas girl, two down at the turn, had staged a brilliant uphill tight to get even on the seventeenth.

Miss Verry had little trouble getting past Mrs. J. J. Lawlor, of New Rochelle, N. Y., five and four. Mrs. Lawlor, who had thrown a scare into the competitive veterans by eliminating Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., and Jane Douglas, of Beverly Hills, Calif., in earlier rounds, was way off the championship game she displayed the first three days. Miss Verry continued the unspectacular but steady game by which she reached the finals apparently without extending herself. Despite the ease with which the Worcester girl has disposed of her opponents, however, Miss Glutting continued the favorite, a position she has held since the tourney opened.

Rosenbloom Trips Heavyweight Brown

Charleston, S. C., March 23 (AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champion, won an unpopular decision over Leroy Brown, Charleston marine, in a ten-round non-title bout tonight. The decision was booed lustily by a crowd of more than 3,000.

Rosenbloom, weighing 181, had an announced advantage of five pounds. Brown was the aggressor during most of the fight. He had the champion wallowing on the ropes most of the time. None of Rosenbloom's slapping tactics awed the marine, who forced the fighting so furiously that Rosenbloom had to slug it out with him and the majority of the crowd seemed to think Brown had the best of it.

Stockholders of Stone & Webster today reelected the retiring board of directors and authorized a decrease in the company's shares from 3,000,000 to 2,110,000. This decrease, which applies only to unissued shares, does not affect the outstanding stock.

SPARTANS TAKE TRIP TO SOUTH

Coach Kobs Takes 16 on Squad; 7 Baseball Games Booked

East Lansing, March 22. (AP)—Sixteen Michigan State college baseball candidates will leave here tomorrow afternoon on the annual southern training trip.

Coach John Kobs has scheduled a series of seven games starting with Ohio University at Athens, Ohio, Saturday. All the other contests will be played in North Carolina.

The diamond candidates will take off with Kobs still concerned over his team's batting and pitching strength. The Spartans will miss such hitters as Al Kircher, Chuck Fawcett, and Abe Ellowitz, of last year's team.

The pitchers are dominated by sophomore material. Arnold Parker, a reserve of last year, is the only veteran. It remains to be seen what the newcomers will do. Kronbach and Hopkins have shown the most stuff in early practice.

Players welcomed the opportunity for greater out-door work that the North Carolina climate is expected to offer. They have had few chances to practice outside on the campus here because of the weather conditions.

The men making the trip will be:

Pitchers —Arnold Parker, Middleville; John Berg, Hamtramck; George Hopkins, Grand Ledge; Allan Kronbach, Monroe, and Robert Allman, Bay City.

Catchers Captain Floyd Morse, Greenwood, Ark.; and Ed Klewicki, Hamtramck.

Infielders — William McCann, Irving; Theron Fager, Saginaw; Edwin Fiedler, Lansing; Fred Ziegel, Detroit; Irving Bartling, Redford, and Arthur Rouse, Boyne City.

Outfielders — Charles Brown, Jackson; Sam Carp, Hillsdale, and Harold Welch, Walled Lake.

The southern schedule, played during March, are as follows:

24, Ohio University at Athens.
26, Davidson college, North Carolina.
27, Duke college, Durham, N. C.
28, Elon college, Burlington, N. C.
29, Wake Forest college, North Carolina.
30, Elon college.
31, Caramount A. C. at Rocky Mount, N. C.

DIZZY DEAN FINISHES

Bradenton, Fla., March 22. (AP) The St. Louis Cardinals permitted Babe Dedrikson, girl Olympic star, to pitch the first inning of an exhibition game with the Boston Americans here today, thus spotted the visitors three runs, then won 9 to 7.

Bill Hallahan went to the mound in the second and was effective until the fifth when wildness allowed the Red Sox to tie the score, 7 to 7. Dizzy Dean finished strong, not granting a hit in four innings.

Score by innings:

Boston	300 040 000	7	8 2
St. Louis	330 102 00x	9	13 1

Didrikson, Hallahan, J. Dean and Davis; Ostermueller, Welch, Walberg and Hinkle, Farrell.

Local Ping Pongers Teach Mountaineers Game's Fine Points

The skeptics said they couldn't do it—but they did!

Escanaba ping pongers, employing drives, cuts, reverses and some nifty change in pace, tripped the Iron Mountain team of its ping pong title in a match at the Knights of Columbus club rooms last night, 16 to 9, including a charity point thrown to the visitors to make the result look more presentable when the Mountaineers get back home and try to explain to the natives how come they let that "championship" get away from them.

The Escanaba team might only be title holders for a week, however, as next Thursday they travel to Iron Mountain to give the Mountaineers an opportunity to regain the crown—if they can.

In winning the team match from the Mountaineers, the local team was led by Jess Laviolette whose wizardry with the celluloid sphere had every member of the visiting contingent mystified. Laviolette won his five games, defeating each of the visitors in turn. His most noteworthy triumph came at the expense of Paul Gingrass, burly Mountaineer ace and well known football player. Before that game both Laviolette and Gingrass were undefeated and each had won four games. Laviolette won, 21 to 13, from the Iron Mountain top ranking star.

In addition to the five points scored by Laviolette, Dr. Buttimer won four of his five games with the visitors, Coan contributed three points to Escanaba's total and Boddy three points. Harold Gessner, the fifth member of the local team, had a bad night of it, getting only one victory in five starts. Boddy forfeited to Hardgrove, Kingsford tennis ace, in his last scheduled game. Boddy was forced to leave and the Escanaba team decided to concede a point due to the late hour rather than call on a substitute.

The scores of the match follow:

First Round

Gingrass defeated Buttimer, 31-28; Laviolette defeated Tucker, 31-26; Coan defeated Hardgrove, 33-31; Boddy defeated Stillwell, 32-30; Mengie defeated Gessner, 34-32. (First round games played to 31 points but cut to 21 points for last four rounds of the match.) Escanaba 3; Iron Mountain 2.

Second Round

Buttimer defeated Tucker, 21-7; Laviolette defeated Hardgrove, 21-17; Stillwell defeated Coan, 21-15; Boddy defeated Mengie, 21-8; Gingrass defeated Gessner, 21-7. Escanaba 3; Iron Mountain 2.

Third Round

Buttimer defeated Hardgrove, 21-16; Laviolette defeated Stillwell, 21-15; Coan defeated Mengie, 21-12; Gingrass defeated Boddy, 21-16; Gessner defeated Tucker, 21-11. Escanaba 4; Iron Mountain 1.

Fourth Round

Buttimer defeated Stillwell, 21-16; Laviolette defeated Mengie, 21-19; Gingrass defeated Coan, 21-18; Boddy defeated Tucker, 21-17; Hardgrove defeated Gessner, 21-13. Escanaba 3; Iron Mountain 2.

Fifth Round

Buttimer defeated Mengie, 21-10; Laviolette defeated Gingrass, 21-13; Coan defeated Tucker, 22-20; Boddy forfeited to Hardgrove; Stillwell defeated Gessner, 20-12. Escanaba 3; Iron Mountain 2. Total: Escanaba 16; Iron Mountain 9.

Senators Confident, Look For Grand Slam

BY RALPH WHEATLEY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Biloxi, Miss., March 22 (AP)—With the world series championship as their goal, the Washington Senators expect to make a grand slam with its last year's American League pennant winners.

"It's the finest combination of ball players ever gathered on one club," said Manager Joe Cronin, a start in his own right.

The whole team is smarting under the defeat in the last world series, which they think they should have won. At the spring camp here on the gulf coast, all of them down to the bat boys feel the American League pennant is in the bag. They think there will be little more competition, but they haven't a thought of being headed.

Cronin is about the happiest manager on the circuit. All of his regulars are on hand in good physical condition and he has a sprightly bunch of youngsters working in the background, eager to jump at the job of any regular showing signs of weakening.

The most noticeable one is Cecil Travis, a 20 year old Georgia farmer boy, who has Ossie Bluege really worried over the third base position. Although there still is a lot of baseball in Bluege's 33 year old bones, the cotton farm boy is flashing brilliant play and is knocking the pitchers around like nobody's business. Bluege no doubt will start the season at his old job, but he will have to jump to keep the Georgian on the bench.

Cliff Bolton, supporting catcher, has about been dropped from the roster as his hold-out has been taken seriously by the management. Bolton told them he would go into the grocery business before he would accept the proffered contract and Clark Griffith's silence meant consent.

The indifference over Bolton partly was due to the appearance of Elmer (Yoo-Hoo) Klump, who came into camp from Chattanooga and is aiming to get one of the regular catcher's jobs. Luke Sewell is as secure as the rock of Gibraltar, but Moe Berg will have to be alert to keep back the newcomer.

The outfield will be held by that fast, hard hitting crew, Manush, Schulte and Stone, and Kuhel. Myer, Cronin and Bluege with Travis in the offing constitute perhaps the best infield in any league.

On the pitching mound will be found the big four, Crowder, Stewart, Weaver and Whitehill, and the great relief pitcher, Jack Russell. Behind these a string of ambitious hurlers are struggling for positions. Of this lot, the 22 year old Ed Linke is showing the best form. He was bought from Davenport, Iowa, in 1932 after striking out 228 batters and pitching a no-hit game. He joined the Senators last year and won a four-hit game from the Red Sox but was farmed out to Chattanooga for the rest of the season.

With this talent and a spirit that knows no bounds, the Senators may repeat this year by winning the American flag and if so, maybe the world's championship.

REDS NIP DODGERS

Tampa, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Making the most of their seven hits off Owen Carroll and Art Herring, the Cincinnati Reds today took a 3 to 2 decision from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

While Don Brennan, Allen Stout and Joe Shaute, the latter a former Dodger, were keeping Brooklyn's nine hits scattered over six innings, the Reds jumped on Carroll for two runs and six hits in the first five innings and picked up what proved to be the deciding tally in the eighth off Herring. A base on balls, a wild pitch, an error and an outfield fly sent Shaute across the plate with the run.

Score by innings:

Brooklyn, N.	001 000 001	2	9 0
Cincinnati, N	100 010 01x	3	7 0

Carroll, Herring and Sukeforth, Outen; Brennan, Stout, Shaute and Lombardi.

RUTH GETS 2 HOMERS

Clearwater, Fla., March 22 (AP)—With Babe Ruth cracking out two home runs to drive in half of the runs and Lou Gehrig added another circuit clout, the New York Yankees today defeated their No. 1 farm team, the Newark Bears, 8 to 6.

The Babe connected with his first homer in the opening inning with two mates on base and added the other in the fifth with the sacks empty. Both were hit off Ray White, former Columbia university star. Gehrig also hit his homer off White, sending the ball over the fence in the third inning without anybody on base.

Score by innings:

New York A	501 020 000	8	9 2
Newark (L.	000 022 011	6	10 1

MacFayden, Van Atta and Kips; White, Mokosky, and Glenn, Gall.

CUBS BEAT PIRATES

Los Angeles, March 22. (AP) Ernest Babe Phelps hit a sizzling single into left field in the seventh inning with Dolph Camilli on second, then scored the winning run on Augie Galen's sigle to center in a two-run rally that gave the Chicago Cubs a 3 to 2 victory over Pittsburgh's Pirates in an exhibition game here today.

Singles by George Stainbeck and Riggs Stephenson and a long fly by Babe Herman in the fourth gave the Cubs their two other runs.

Floyd Vaughn, Pirate shortstop, hit a home run into the right field bleachers in the sixth with Pie Traynor on base for Pittsburgh's two tallies.

The score by innings:

Pittsburgh	000 002 000	2	9 0
Chicago	000 100 20x	3	6 0

French, Hoyt and Grace, Veltman; Joiner, Warnecke and Tate, Phelps.

TIGERS LOSE AGAIN

Lakeland, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers lost their second major league exhibition game in as many starts here today, going down 7 to 2, under a barrage of hits by the Philadelphia Athletics. The Tigers previously lost to Boston's Red Sox.

Manager Cochrane used Tommy Bridges, Steve Larkin, and Carl Fischer against Connie Mack's club, but they were not good enough today. The Macks got ten hits, one of them a home run by Jimmy Foxx. Bill Dietrich and Harry Matuzak held Detroit to seven scattered hits.

Rogell and Walker looked good at the plate for Detroit, with two hits each, and Rogell sparkled in his play at third base. Detroit meets the Cardinals here on Saturday.

The score:

	R	H	E
Philadelphia A	030 003 001	7	19 0
Detroit (A)	101 000 000	2	7 0

Dietrich, Matuzak and Hayes; Bridges, Larkin, Fischer and Cochrane.

GODWIN BEATS JOHNNY RISKO

Cairo Mich., Judge Drops Dead at Fight from Heart Failure

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 22. (AP)—Bob Godwin, Adel, Ga., light heavyweight, tonight beat out a wide decision over Johnny Risko, Cleveland heavyweight.

Judge H. H. Smith of the circuit court of Cairo, Mich., a spectator, dropped dead presumably of heart failure as the fight ended.

Spotting his veteran opponent 18 1-2 pounds, Godwin was on the offense throughout, pounding Risko with a barrage of left-jabs and straight rights. There were no knockdowns.

At the end of the third, Risko was so groggy that he stumbled to the wrong corner. Godwin put on his greatest exhibition in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth rounds, taking all with some to spare.

Risko threw plenty of blows, but could not land often on the dancing, weaving Godwin. In only the seventh and eighth rounds could Risko get the edge.

Shortly before the first bell, Risko announced he had approved plans for a fight either with Walter Neusel or Max Schmeling at Cleveland April 17. He said he preferred to take on Schmeling.

Godwin weighed 175; Risko 193 1-2.

Judge Smith was a winter visitor here.

The first successful night landing on an aircraft carrier was made by Lieut. Com. John D. Price of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics in April, 1925.

Fire In Japanese City Claims 650; Hakodate In Ruins

Tokyo, March 22. (AP) Relief work was speeded tonight to the city of Kakodate, a mass of smouldering ruins after one of the most disastrous fires in the history of Japan.

An official estimate said 650 persons lost their lives in the fire which swept the beautiful port city yesterday.

Nearly 500 persons were injured and 23,000 houses in the city of 213,000 population were destroyed.

By land and sea the government dispatched aid to the bereaved population. Six warships carried bluejackets and medical supplies, while the army took blankets and food.

Thousands of homeless persons searched among smoking ruins for loved ones as soldiers patrolled the streets to prevent looting. Scores of convicts were turned from jail when flames threatened the building.

After a night, which survivors termed "a living hell," the flames today spread into the suburbs.

A storm which knocked over chimneys, spreading the fire, was blamed for the holocaust in Japan's tenth city.

Pacesetters Still Lead Tourney But Kings Cut Margin

Taking the Champs into camp by a score of 66 to 37, the Pacesetters continued to lead the way in the smear tournament being sponsored by the Gladstone Masonic lodge, but the Kings hung close in second place and cut down their lead to two points. The Pacesetters now have a cumulative total of 223 to the Kings' 221.

Two new teams joined the contest Wednesday evening, making a total of 14 four-man teams that are now competing. Other quartets and their totals according to position are Tenners, 196; Jokers, 187; Red Devils, 177; Blue Devils 173; Pirates, 169; Champs, 164; Dirty Deuces, 153; Easy Marks, 144; Four Horsemen, 140; Niners 133; Ski Jumpers, 75, and the Boiler Makers, 52. The last two teams started only Wednesday night and have ten games to make up.

Results of this week's games other than the Pacesetters-Champs battle were: Dirty Deuces 65, Four Horsemen 37, Pirates 63, Red Devils 62, Niners 55, Blue Devils 55, Ski Jumpers 75, Boiler Makers 52, Tenners 68, Easy Marks 53, Kings 69, Jokers 46.

Refreshments were served at the close of play. The next series of games will be on next Wednesday evening.

THEATRES

"Morning Glory" and "Bondage," screen features, will be shown for the last times tonight on the double bill program at the Rialto Theatre. Something new in romantic triangles is introduced in "Morning Glory" which presents Adolphe Menjou and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., as love rivals with Katharine Hepburn as the girl. "Bondage" tears down a curtain that has long concealed a hidden part of our lives.

Qualified Electors May Vote April 2, City Clerk States

Some misunderstanding as to who is qualified to vote in the coming city election has arisen, it was learned yesterday at the office of the city clerk. It seems that a number of persons labored under the impression that it was necessary to be a property owner in order to vote. This, it was pointed out, is only a requirement in the case of the school section. In the coming poll, any inhabitants of the city having the constitutional qualifications of electors of state shall be the electors.

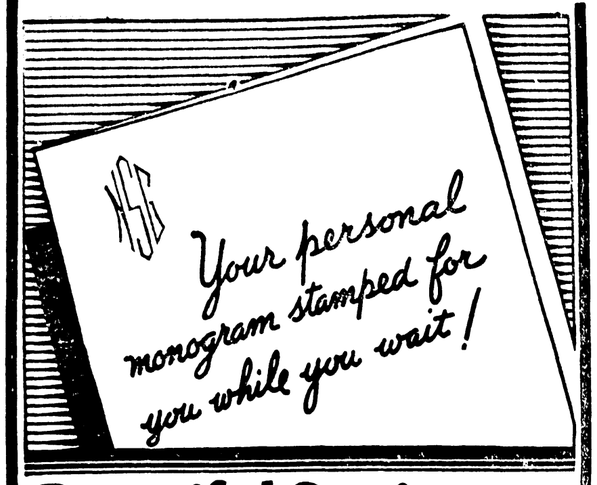

One of the provisions is that the person be duly registered and the final date for this is on Saturday, Mar. 24, from 8 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon.

Persons changing precincts following the last registration day may obtain transfer of registration on election day. This will even apply in cases where the person might move the day before election.

Absent voters ballots may be obtained at any time previous to election day, but none will be issued on the day of polling regardless of reason, it was stated.

U. P. PRINTERS MEETING HERE

Permanent Organization Will Be Formed at Conference

Commercial printers of the upper peninsula will meet at the Delta hotel in Escanaba 10 o'clock this morning. About fifty persons are expected to attend.

Various phases of the NRA code affecting the graphic arts industry will be considered. An upper peninsula organization for the administration of the code will be formed. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

Roads and Trails Will Be Marked

As a convenience to campers and tourists 1,200 signs are to be erected in Michigan State forests this spring to mark all boundaries roads and trails, it was announced by the Forestry division, State Department of Conservation.

The signs will direct the way to the different camp and picnic grounds, the nearest towns and points of interest and to the forestry headquarters in each area. Every road and trail as it enters or leaves the forest will be posted with directions.

Posts are now being painted at Higgins Lake State Forest nursery in Crawford county and signs are being designed by the Forestry Division. They will be erected by Emergency Conservation Work labor.

Bachelors, Blackies To Settle Bowling Deadlock Saturday

The Bachelors and Blackies will provide the entertainment for the bowling fans this coming Saturday evening. Several weeks ago these two teams put up an exciting battle and when the final scores were recorded it was found that both teams had an equal number of pins. Since then members of each team have been telling one another what they were going to do when they met on the alleys again, and Saturday night will determine which is the better aggregation of bowlers.

Stan Crowe will be at the helm for the Bachelors and will be assisted by such sterling and graceful performers as Stamness, McCarthy, Strom, Max Kuehn, and Bratschie. For the Blackies Chas. Isackson will act as pilot and who he recruits for his lineup will not be known until the match starts. It is quite certain that Tebo, Lied, George Babladelis, Cayia, and Bill Thomas will grace their lineup.

Dan Harrington will take charge of the kitchen committee, and will be assisted by John Girvin. A perch fry will top the menu and another Dinty Moore ham has been ordered for the occasion.

Inlands Seek Win Over Ishpeming In Cage Tilt Tonight

What looms up as the final basketball game of the season for local fans will be played here this evening when the Inlands will stack up against the strong Ishpeming North Lake cagers who defeated the locals in a close game played at Ishpeming several weeks ago. Proceeds of the game will go toward the community milk fund which is used for the purchase of milk for all undernourished grade school children in the city. Expenses for the game are being borne by the Inland Lime and Stone company, sponsors of the Inland team.

A preliminary game between Barkers and Browns will begin at 7:30 o'clock and the main game at 8:30. The Brown-Barker contest will take the place of the Barker-Lauerman game as advertised on the handbills.

Officials for the prelim will be Berger and Rubick, while Bill Cook, veteran local referee, will take care of the main event. The public is cordially invited to attend this attraction, thereby helping to contribute toward this very worthy cause.

Changes Plea To Guilty; Pays $100

A $100 fine was paid yesterday morning by Elova Larlon, of this city, who Wednesday morning changed his plea to guilty upon a larceny charge preferred against him on the complaint of A. L. Byers, of Hiawatha, who charged Larlon with taking an axe from his car Saturday evening when it was mired in a snow bank on Highway M-94. Larlon who pleaded not guilty when arraigned on Monday afternoon, changed his plea prior to the drawing of a jury Wednesday morning. In addition to the $100 fine, Larlon agreed to make restitution for the damage done to Byers car when he struck it with the axe.

Larlon was given the option of a 60-day jail sentence or payment of the fine and was also ordered to make restitution for the damage to the car within thirty days or otherwise serve an additional 20 days. Because of the flagrancy of the case, Professor W. J. Sheahan advocated the maximum sentence of 90 days in jail or the $100 fine which was slightly modulated by the court in regard to the jail sentence.

It is an old custom in Sardinia to use dogs, cats or other animals as witnesses in court. The testimony is considered true if one of the animals bears it without sign of dissent.

THREE PERISH ON AIRLINER; WRECK FOUND

abled two mountaineers on muleback today to find the wreckage of a Pan-American-Grace airliner and the bodies of nine men who started from Santiago, Chile, 20 months ago for a flight across the world's highest air route.

A mystery of its disappearance, which led scores of searching expeditions by plane and mule into the Andean mountain fastnesses previously untrod and unmapped, was solved when the men sighted the plane, its nose buried in the shaggy slope of Cerro del Plomo, almost due east of Santiago and four miles south of Puente del Inca.

The mountaineers, Miguel Lucero and Cristomo Suarez, are employes of the Puente del Inca inn, a mountain resort on the Transandine Railway and close to the Argentine-Chilean border.

The craft was not burned. It was found not far off the route through the Andean pass habitually followed by Pan-American-Grace planes.

Hidden By Snows

In their month-long search for the plane searchers passed near by, or even over the site countless times since the plane, the "San Jose," reported by radio at 7:10 a. m. on July 16, 1932—an hour after leaving Santiago for Buenos Aires—that it was battling low snow clouds and blizzards.

Then its wireless stuttered and died.

Heavy snows immediately after the disaster and the absence of subsequent thaws until those of the present waning summer apparently buried the plane completely from the searching parties.

A blanket of snow still covered the bodies and kept them, with one exception, intact.

They were being brought to Mendoza tonight by an expedition headed by Pan-American-Grace and Argentine authorities.

Meager details available pending the return of the expedition revealed that the craft apparently remained aloft at least two hours after leaving Santiago, hunting its way through the storm until its gasoline supply was exhausted.

Two of the occupants were United States citizens. They were: F. E. Camus, division traffic manager of the air line;

J. C. Sabate; O. S. Pezet; E. E. Raffo; Pinkus Rotszyld; F. L. America; Charles J. Robinson, pilot; C. W. Myers, radio operator; A. Woods, steward.

Robinson left a wife and two children in Chicago. The parents of Myers, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Myers, live in Canton, Ohio.

Despite the storms raging at the time, as many as 12 airplanes embarked in a determined search for the craft. The spot where it was found is at the base of Mount Aconcagua, 23,30n feet high and the loftiest in the America's.

The discovery was expected to clear up rumors prevalent since the disaster that one passenger carried a belt containing a fortune in gold, which he was seeking to remove from Argentina in contravention to a government embargo on gold exports.

NEGROES SENTENCED

Jackson, Mich., March 22 (AP) William McMillan and Henry Ferguson, negroes, were sentenced Thursday to serve from 15 to 30 years each for the robbery of a gas station attendant and a local store several weeks ago. McMillin will go to the state prison here and Ferguson to the reformatory in Ionia.

EICHORN FREED AT MARQUETTE

Alma Farmer, 69, Broken In Health, Rejoins Wife at Alma

Marquette, Mich., March 22 (AP) Convict Number 3434 will walk out of the Michigan Branch prison to freedom tomorrow as the final chapter in the 17-year-old Eichorn murder case.

The bearer of the number is Albert Eichorn, one time prosperous farmer of Gratiot county. He will leave the prison in Marquette after serving nearly 17 years of an original life sentence for the strangle murder of the 18-year-old Beatrice Epler, of Alma, September 5, 1917. His parole arrived at the prison today.

Eichorn will return to his home in Alma which he left for prison after a sensational trial in 1918. Broken in health and 69 years of age, Eichorn will rejoin his wife who has remained on the farm all these years.

Eichorn's release was made possible largely because of his health and his good conduct in prison. Governor Comstock commuted Eichorn's term in February to a sentence of 25 years to life.

The Eichorn case was one of the great murder mysteries of central Michigan. The aged farmer has always maintained his innocence. Several years ago a group of Lansing citizens launched an intensive drive to liberate him. The parole office after an investigation, decided the evidence against him was adequate.

At one time the efforts to free Eichorn almost culminated in success. Mrs. Anna Gilson Mimnaugh, of Kenosha, Wis., signed an affidavit six years ago that she perjured her testimony as a principal state witness against Eichorn at his trial. She claimed that David Beaudrais, one-time woodsman, forced her to render false testimony. Beaudrais was later located in the east where he was dying. He made a statement denying Mrs. Mimnaugh's charges.
